Rogers Satisfied With One Deal He Made in Arkansas

(Special To The News)

CAMDEN, Ark., Feb. 29.—If I was a coal mine owner and could not understand my help any better than some of them do, I would resign.

Say, do you know this little city has six-million-dollar plant where they make wrapping paper out of post oak and black jack trees?

Arkansas has made wonderful improvements in lots of lines, but I doubt if I could get a better wife out of the state today than I did twenty years ago.

WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

FEBRUARY 29 BIRTHDAYS

This is the day that many New Castle and Lawrence county residents have been waiting a full four years for. It is February 29 and as it comes only once in four years, any person born on February 29, has few chances to celebrate a birthday anniversary, in comparison with others whose birthday anniversary rolls around every year.

In response to the request of Pa Newc during the past few weeks, names of many of those who are today, celebrating this unique birthday have been submitted for the birthday list today.

Those included are as follows:

Lawrence and Marguerite Ward, twins, of 452 Croton avenue, New Castle. They were born in 1924 and first birthday anniversary.

Dorothy Jean Hockenberry daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hockenberry of R. D. No. 2, New Castle. This is likewise her first birthday anniversary, she being four years old.

H. E. Hickling, 604 Oak street New Castle.

Miss Verna Lumley, 199 Mills Way, New Castle.

Mrs. Charles G. Hunter, 130 North Cochran Way, New Castle.

Paul Reese Weisman, 409 Hutchison street, New Castle, Pa. This is his first anniversary, he being four years old today.

Arthur Reeder of Morris street, New Castle.

Marie Elizabeth Alben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Alben, Slippery Rock, R. D. No. 2. This is her first anniversary.

Mrs. Charles W. McGary, New Castle, R. F. D. No. 7.

Harley F. Thompson, 113 South Crawford avenue. Mr. Thompson is probably the dean of February 29 birthday celebrators in this locality as he was born on February 29, 1868.

Herbert James Stickman 322½ Shaw street, New Castle.

Sylvester Russo, 13 East Clayton street, New Castle.

Ada Marie Shaffer, New Castle R. D. No. 6.

John McCurdy, Sr., Kennedy's Mills.

Thomas C. McConnell, local Y. M. C. A. worker in China, now in New York city temporarily.

Beverley Groden, No. 5 Pittsburgh Circle, Ellwood City.

Mrs. O. A. Rodgers, 1306 Delaware avenue, New Castle.

Frank Straw, 620 Fairview avenue, New Castle.

Fred J. Clark, Jackson Centre, R. D. No. 20. He is a former Lawrence county lad, having been born on the farm near this city known as the Greer farm.

Walter Gray, Irwin, Pa., R. F. D. No. 2.

William P. Dugan, 490 Neshannock avenue, New Castle.

Ed C. Covert, Portersville, Pa., rural mail carrier.

Mrs. Bertha Moore Nord, 217½ Blaine street, was born February 29, 1896, and celebrated her first birthday anniversary in 1904, when she was eight years of age.

Mrs. Luther McGinnis of Chestnut street, is probably the oldest lady in

New York State Solons To Hear Col. Lindbergh

Famous Flying Colonel To Speak On Aviation At Legislature Session

ALBANY READY TO HONOR "LINDY"

Many Prominent In Aviation Circles To Visit New York State Capital

By RAYMOND L. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 29.—New York state, through Governor Alfred E. Smith, its legislature and its state officials, today was formally to pay its respects to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh when the famous flier comes to the capitol to speak in behalf of aviation legislation.

Believed to be the first time the lone eagle has ever appeared before a state legislature in behalf of legislation to speed up aviation development, Governor Smith and the lawmakers were prepared to make the most of the occasion.

Expect Huge Crowd

Elaborate preparations have been made to handle the crowd that is expected to come to the capitol.

In many ways the capitol took on the appearance of the inauguration of a governor. State troopers were on guard throughout the building, and

Judges Make Awards At Westfield Grange Home Products Show

Miniature County Fair Is Held At Westfield Grange On Tuesday

Scores Of Farm Exhibits; Program Is Presented During Evening

First Westfield Community Farm Products Show held in the Westfield Grange Hall, Tuesday, afternoon and evening, February 28, was a complete success and it is likely that it will be made an annual affair by the Westfield Grange, under whose auspices it was held.

A very fine exhibit of poultry, grains, eggs, potatoes, honey, apples and vegetables as well as an excellent exhibition of fancy needlework, and bread and pastry was arranged and judged in the afternoon session. Guy M. Fullerton was chairman of the general committee, and it was owing to his efforts and those of the committee that the affair was the success it was.

Evening Session

The evening session was in charge of the master of the Westfield Grange, James E. Kelso. The principal feature was the illustrated lecture on "Agriculture in European Countries" by H. G. Niesley, assistant director of agricultural extension from State College. Music for the evening was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Brewster assisted by Mrs. Frank McCleary and Miss Margaret Graham. A reading was given by Mrs. John McKee. Harold R. McCulloch, Lawrence County Farm Agent and Miss Eleanor Drury, State College Economics worker also gave short addresses.

REAR ADMIRAL JONES REMOVED FROM POST AS NAVAL EXPERT

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones has been removed from his post as naval expert on the American delegation to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission.

The senate department today announced the appointment of Rear Admiral Andrew T. Long to succeed Jones at the fifth meeting of the commission in Geneva beginning March 15.

Two Union Mine Officials Slain At Pittston, Pa.

Death Stalks Streets Of Pittston As Mine Vendetta Breaks Out Anew

BELIEVE IMPORTED GUNMEN RESPONSIBLE

Returning Home From Inquiry Into Death Of Miner When Shooting Occurs

(International News Service)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 29.—Silent men walked the streets of the silent city of Pittston today—marked men, awaiting the next death move in a mine vendetta which today had added two more names to its rapidly growing list of victims.

Alex Campbell, 35, former international board member of the United Mine Workers, and Peter Saudaragas, 28, local union secretary, were shot down near Campbell's home while returning from a conference regarding the shooting of Frank Agati, an earlier victim of the mine union feud.

Pittston waited silently for the next move in the vendetta—waited, knowing that other lives will be taken in the bitter factional war. State troopers were reported to have made four arrests, but the troopers are moving secretly.

Imported Gunmen.

Imported gunmen were believed to have been the slayers of the two mine union officials. A closed car, without license plates, sped up to the car in which Campbell and Saudaragas were seated after a conference, and pumped a deadly spray of bullets into the two men's bodies with pumpguns and revolvers. Twenty bullets were found in each body. The car was later found in Moosic, near Scranton.

The two men were killed shortly after a conference with members of

TO BUILD ADDITION TO SCOTLAND LANE SCHOOL

Union High To Have Auditorium And Gymnasium, Also More Classrooms

Expect To Take Bids For Addition In Few Weeks, Says Architect

A new two-story addition to consist of a combination auditorium and gymnasium and eight classrooms is to be built this summer to the Scotland Lane school building in Union township, according to action taken by the board of school directors.

According to the architect, Albert L. Thayer, the addition is estimated to cost between $50,000 and $60,000 and will be of fireproof brick construction to correspond with the present building.

The addition will be added to the south side of the present building and will consist of two stories and a basement. The chief feature of the improvement will be a combination auditorium and gymnasium, containing a stage and picture booth and bleachers to accommodate the spectators at games and entertainment, thus providing a needed community center. Shower and dressing rooms will be provided for both boys and girls and a new heating system and new toilets will be installed.

The classroom will include a laboratory, a general shop room for boys and a domestic science room for girls with other classrooms.

Mr. Thayer says that the plans for the new addition are nearly complete and will be ready for bids in about two weeks.

Mrs. Phoebe Baker, Winter avenue, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Lindbergh Has Endurance Of Famous Son

SON TO JOIN HER IN BOSTON SOON

(International News Service)

BOSTON Feb. 29.—Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh has the same physical endurance that has characterized her famous son, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh.

After a particularly strenuous day in which others with her wilted under the whirl of shopping trips, visits and meetings of the National Education association, Mrs. Lindbergh today was still fresh and eager as ever for another busy day.

Miss Maud Dawson who accompanied the mother of "Lindy" from Detroit and has been her almost constant companion could not continue and rested in her apartment in the hotel.

Japan's Foremost Aviator Is Killed

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Feb. 29.—Japan's foremost aviator, Yukichi Goto, was killed instantly today and Pilot Suwa, a navy officer, was injured seriously when their plane crashed while on a practice flight from the Omura aerodrome at Kyushu Island.

The plane in which the aviators crashed was to have been used in a trans-Pacific flight attempt. Goto was to have commanded the flight.

Los Angeles Bucking Stiff Head Wind On Northward Flight

IS AVERAGING ABOUT 40 MILES PER HOUR

Morning Report From Commander Rosendahl Says All On Board Are Well

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Nosing her way slowly through a stiff head-on breeze, the giant navy dirigible Los Angeles continued her northward flight from the Panama canal today without incident.

Wireless advices from Commander Rosendahl at 6 o'clock this morning located the Los Angeles just off South Negril Point, on the extreme western tip of Jamaica, with weather fair and all well aboard.

Makes Good Progress.

Navigation experts were gratified by the progress of the huge craft on her northward flight, which was expected to be considerably slower and more difficult than this morning's reports indicated. South Negril Point is but 140 miles south of Guacanabybabo bay, Cuba, where the tender Patoka is waiting with her mooring mast ready to drag the dirigible back to her Lakehurst, N. J., base should her gas supply be exhausted or the northern weather unfavorable.

When she left France field, canal zone, yesterday morning at 10:15, the Former County Judge Dies In Cleveland, O.

Judge Emery Expires After Operation Performed Recently In Cleveland Hospital

DEATH COMES AS SHOCK TO CITY

City Loses One Of Leading Citizens In Death Of Jurist Last Night

S. PLUMMER EMERY

Attorney S. Plummer Emery, formerly judge of the Lawrence county courts, a former district attorney and city councilman, an outstanding jurist and son of a pioneer family of New Castle, passed away in the Cleveland Clinic hospital late Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, after an illness of but a few weeks. Ex-Judge Emery was 63 years of age, having been born September 30, 1864.

His death comes as a sudden shock to the entire county. Some weeks ago he complained of not feeling well and upon the advice of his physician went to Cleveland, O., for observation and treatment. X-rays showed a malignant condition of the stomach existing and he was operated upon. His physical condition was such that he could not rally after the op-

One Man Injured, Several Buildings Damaged By Detonation In Night

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29.—Dozens of persons were hurled from their beds at Elizabeth, Pa., near here, early today and one man was injured when a mysterious bomb explosion rocked the borough.

The bomb wrecked a two-story building and residence and damaged nine other buildings. Police believe it was placed in the doorway of a building owned by the Gamble estate.

Witnesses told police they saw two strange men running from the doorway a short time before the bomb ex-

Resume Search For Missing Naval Fliers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Early today all available aircraft in this vicinity took the air again to resume the search for the three naval fliers who have been missing since Sunday night.

The navy department has almost despaired of finding the men and believes their plane fell into Chesapeake Bay and they were drowned.

Comdr. T. C. Ellyson, Lt. Comdr. Hugo Schmidt, and Lt. Roger Ransehausen took off from the airplane carrier Lexington at Hampton Roads to fly to Annapolis, only 140 miles away. They vanished during a flight that should not have taken more than two hours.

Ellyson was rushing to the sick bed of his 12 year old daughter.

Half a hundred army and navy planes and dirigibles are pressing the search. So far not a trace has been found. Admiral Charles F. Hughes, chief of naval operations, has offered a reward of $100 for discovery of the plane or bodies.

Ringleaders In Mail Robbery Are Indicted

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—Three alleged ringleaders in the $133,000 Grand Trunk mail robbery here last Saturday morning were under federal indictment today.

The true bills were voted last night by a federal grand jury, which held its first night session here in ten years. They are to be returned today in the court of Judge Evan A. Evans.

Habeas corpus proceedings for the release of the accused men are now pending before Judge Evans. Those named in the indictments are: Charles "Limpy" Cleaver, in whose home $17,600 of the loot was recovered; William Donovan, who is said to have been the "brains" of the holdup plot, and Frank Meccia, an expert on explosives who is said to have engineered the dynamiting of the "bandit proof" mail car door.

It was reported that three other suspects, still at large, were also named in grand jury true bills. Their names were not disclosed.

CONFESSES HE SHOT HIS WIFE

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Raymond Westervelt, 31, a former prize-fighter, confessed to police early today that he shot and killed his 27-year-old wife, Elsie, last night in her home in Glendale, a suburb. He was to face a murder charge later today.

John Reulbach, Westervelt's father-in-law, was shot through the stomach when he attempted to prevent Westervelt from entering the house. Mrs. Reulbach was shot in the arm. Reulbach was rushed to a hospital and placed on the operating table in an effort to save his life.

The tragedy stalked in the wake of a broken marriage. Westervelt and his wife separated several months ago following a series of bitter quarrels. Last night he became enraged and shot her through the head while their five-year-old son slept in the next room.

WHO'S PAYING FOR THIS EXTRA DAY?

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The American people today are doing $250,000,000 worth of work for which they get no pay.

That is one way at looking at the economic effect of February 29—the fatal leap year day for bachelors.

In the last few years the national income, estimated by the Bureau of Internal Revenue at $90,000,000,000, is spread over 360 working days. This year there's an extra one, an eight hours more for the same pay.

Day laborers, of course, get an extra day's pay—but their income is negligible as compared to those on a salary basis or drawing income from investments.

Leap year definitely set Uncle Sam back $10,000,000 for that is the average day's cost of running the Federal government. State governments last year cost about $1,700,000,000, according to the Commerce Department. Leap year means about $4,800,000 more to them.

Tenants had it on the landlords, however, for two rooms and baths cost just the same in leap year as any other time.

Government economists said the extra day doesn't mean anything from the financial standpoint for just a few days thrown in here or there is a mere trifle when viewing from the broad standpoint of all that's gone and all that's coming.

Woman, Aged 104 Is Taken For Airplane Ride, Given Thrill

(International News Service)

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 29.—Believed to be the oldest woman ever to make an airplane flight, Mrs. Catherine Fenton, 104, today still experienced a thrill of pleasure over her first trip into the clouds.

The centenarian made her initial flight yesterday as a passenger in the monoplane piloted by George Haldeman, the flier who nearly made a non-stop journey over the Atlantic ocean with Miss Ruth Elder.

The aged woman is so feeble she had to be lifted into the plane. But upon her return she waved enthusiastically to movie cameramen who clicked for the newsreels while Mrs. Fenton declared she was ready to try it again.

Mrs. Fenton's home is in Jamestown, N. Y. She is spending the winter here.

She has now traveled via nearly every means of locomotion, including the ox-cart, the automobile, the old-time sailing vessel and the modern steamship.

LONG ICE JAM AT KITTANNING

(International News Service)

KITTANNING, Pa., Feb. 29.—Continuing to spread and pack, the ice jam in the Alegheny river was 21 miles long today. It extends from Schenley to Orr Hill Island, between Mosgrove and Templeton. Aside from a short opening above dam No. 5, and another near Clinton, the ice pack is solid.

If you think there's something rotten, if the weather isn't right, or the traffic and pedestrians bother you at times at nights, if you seek some open channel to explain your many views, take your pen in hand dear reader, write a letter to the News. Do not stand about the corner, or in some man's barber shop, taking up the barber's minutes with your gabble on the crops, do not air your own opions in the silence of your room, intrspection leads to misery and to triple plated gloom. There's a way to get a hearing by the public, if you choose, simply sit down at your desk and write a letter to the News. If you think the weather's splendid, or its cold or bright or gray, write your letter ere it changes, weather's forty-one today.

Cultivation Of Gorli Plant Is Now Perfected

Plant That Produces Oil For Leprosy Cure Grown In Porto Rico

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—After a world search and long experimentation, scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have brought under cultivation in Porto Rico a plant which promises unlimited quantities of the ingredients of chaulmoogra oil—most valuable agency in the treatment of leprosy—it was disclosed today.

The Gorli plant was discovered in a remote spot in western Africa and transplanted to the American experiment station. After only three years growth it has produced seeds which yield the almost priceless oil.

The experiment is hailed by scientists as a great forward step in the world-wide fight on the dread disease.

State Adult Bible Class Convention At Scranton, Pa.

It is expected that the churches of New Castle will send a number of delegates to the mid-year convention of the Pennsylvania State Adult Bible class Federation which will be held in the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, Scranton, Saturday and Sunday, March 10 and 11.

There will be three sessions on Saturday and the final session Sunday afternoon.

Among the speakers will be Congressman Clyde Kelly, Dr. Clarence True Wilson both well known in this city, Mrs. Minnie Karnoll of Philadelphia and Dr. J. W. Claudy of Pittsburgh.

On Saturday evening there will be a Fellowship dinner in the church dining room. The convention registration fee is $1. Hon. John W. Vickerman of Bellevue, president of the Pennsylvania State Adult Bible class Federation will preside. Mr. Vickerman will be remembered by many who attended the State Sabbath School association meeting in New Castle last October.

Among the Americans who accuse the Englishman of being unable to see a joke are those Chicagoans who take Bill Thompson seriously.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Sunday Record.

ploded. The mysterious strangers leaped into a waiting automobile and vanished into the night.

State Police on Scene.

State police rushed from Suterville to assist Chief of Police James Patton of Elizabeth in investigating the incident. A guard was thrown around other business places.

The force of the explosion was so terrific as to hurl Mrs. Mary Riley, 28, night telephone operator, from her switchboard. It was felt for miles around in nearby towns.

In the bombed building the negro Elks have their lodge room and a negro barber shop also occupies a room. These places are frequented by negroes employed in the Warden mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company.

While a number of guests in the old Elizabeth hotel, a few doors away, were awakened by the detonation the hotel was not damaged. Volunteer firemen searched the damaged buildings for injured but none was found.

Other places damaged were the A. & P. chain store, Tortos barber shop, Bruno sandwich and shoe repair shop, Saddler Auto Accessory company, a lunch room and State bank of Elizabeth and two other stores.

Clairton, West Newton and Suterville reported the detonation was felt there.

sembled a miniature Fair during the afternoon and evening as the crowds gathered to inspect the exhibits and the different judges recorded the points as they placed the ribbons on the exhibits. First, second and third ribbons were offered in each class, only one entry being allowed by an exhibitor in each class. Entries were open to all persons of the community.

Large Poultry Exhibit

The largest exhibit was the poultry exhibit with their pens filling a good part of the basement of the Grange hall. Guy M. Fullerton was superintendent of the exhibit and C. M. McCormick of R. D. 2, New Castle judged the poultry. J. Wylie Brewster was superintendent of Farm products exhibits and Ross Gridley of Beaver, the county agent of Beaver county judged the products. David A. Byler acted as superintendent of the exhibits of potatoes, apples, honey and eggs. Mrs. Hallie Fullerton was superintendent of the exhibition of fancy needlework and bread and pastry. Miss Eleanor Drury, State College Extension Representative in Home Economics placed the ribbons in this department.

The hall also resembled a miniature fair grounds in having a refreshment stand and many exhibits. Mr. and Mrs. John Miller supervised the refreshment stand where the ladies of the Grange furnished sandwiches, coffee, pie and doughnuts. Commercial exhibits in charge of representatives were on the location. Also one of the dairymen of the community had a milking machine there for demonstration.

After the evening program a poultry clinic was conducted by Lyman Peck. Many people of the community brought sick birds to the clinic and Mr. Peck diagnosed the cases. Several dissections were made to demonstrate the nature of the disease.

Feature Exhibitions

Among the exhibitions that attracted special attention was a pair of turkeys exhibited by Andrew J. Dutko. These turkeys are a cross between chickens and turkeys and look like large Rhode Island Red chickens except the necks are bare of feathers and look like the necks of turkeys. The feet also resemble those of turkeys. The eggs are much larger than hen eggs. There is a great demand for the chicks it is said. The chicks also look like the adult birds.

The other exhibit was in the pen of ducks and geese exhibited by J. N. Fullerton which contained a wild duck captured last fall by Mr. Fullerton. It seemed to be quite at home with those of the tame variety. Mr. Fullerton captured the duck in a culvert and took it home and clipped its wings so that it could not escape and turned it in with his flocks of tame ducks. It soon became quite contented and will now likely remain with its adopted family.

Premiums Awarded

The following premiums were awarded in the different departments and classes. Among the poultry premiums were offered for four classes, male bird, hen, pullet and breeding pen of 1 male and 3 females. Ribbons were awarded as follows: Buff Leghorns—David Woods, first for pen and hen and J. N. Fullerton second for hen. Rhode Island Reds—J. N. Fullerton won first for male bird and second for pen. J. A. Dawson won first for pullet while Jay Fullerton won second. Fred Woods won first for hen and first for pen. Mable Norwood won second for male and second for hen.

White Wyandotte—V. P. Martin, first for male, second for hen and second for pullet. Guy Fullerton, first for hen and pullet and second for male. Wm. Gebhart first on pen and third on male and hen. John Brewster got third for pullet.

Brown Leghorns—Milton Cameron took the ribbon for the pen and J. N. Fullerton for hen and pullet.

White Leghorn—John Brewster took premium for pen, J. A. Dawson first on hen and second on pullet and Jay Fullerton first on pullet.

Barred Plymouth Rocks—J. N. Fullerton took first on pen and male while S. D. Fullerton took first on hen and second on pen and male.

Buff Minorcas—Harvey Sipe, first for pen. Earl Cox first for male, hen and pullet. Chas. Wallace took second for male, hen and pullet and C. R. Sherer took second for pen.

Partridge Wyandottes—Guy Fullerton took ribbons for male pullet and hen. Silver Penciled Wyandottes—J. F. Miller took the ribbons.

Columbian—V. P. Martin took the premiums as also he did in the Blue Andelusian class.

Black Minorcas—Alvin Ferree took premiums for male hen and pullet.

J. W. Martin took ribbons in the Buff Plymouth Rock class.

J. N. Fullerton took first place on geese and Mrs. Roy Shideron for ducks.

Harry Emery and Guy Fullerton had fine exhibits of rabbits.

Premiums in farm products went as follows—S. B. Hayes took first on barley and wheat and fourth on corn. James Kelso took first on oats and second on corn. Harry Emery took first and second on White-cap corn while H. K. Chambers took third. Charles Patton took first on corn. James Fullerton took second on wheat and oats and fifth on corn. J. W. Martin took first on buckwheat, second on barley and third on wheat. Wm. Woods took second on oats. Wm. McCombs took third on oats and fourth on wheat. Hugh Kyle took third on corn.

Premium for the best dozen of white eggs went to Mrs. Roy Shederor first, A. H. Ferree second, J. A. Dawson third, J. V. Brewster fourth and J. W. Fullerton fifth. For brons eggs—Mrs. Olive Emery first, J. W. Martin second, J. A. Dawson third, S. G. Byers fourth, Mrs. J. N. Fullerton fifth and Mrs. Roy Shederor sixth. Mrs. Shederor also had several very large eggs which were likely double-yolked which weighed at the rate of 3 ounces per dozen.

Dr. E. C. Porter took first on the honey exhibit, H. A. Kyle second and J. W. Fullerton third. In the russet class of potatoes J. W. Brewster took first, A. J. McCalla second and W. J. Gebhart third. C. F. Wallace took premium in the red potatoes.

In the apples J. A. Dawson took first ribbons for the Stark, Rhode Island Greening and third for the Baldwin. W. J. Gebhart took first for Baldwin and second for Stark. J. W. Fullerton took second for Rhode Island Greening and also ribbons for Rome Beauty and Peck Pleasant. James Kelso took second for the Baldwin. W. J. Douglass took fourth place for Baldwins and first ribbons for Arkansas Beauty and Arkansas Black.

C. F. Wallace took first for carrots while W. J. Gebhart took second and also ribbons for the Mansel Wurtzel. H. A. Kyle took premium for the onions.

In the fancy work goods in the class of colored embroidery Mrs. Curtis Kerr took first for bed spread while Mrs. Charles Sherer took second. Scarfs—first, Mrs. R. M. Haverfield; second, Mrs. George McAnlis. Center piece—first, Mrs. J. W. Martin; second, Mrs. R. M. Haverfield. Luncheon sets—first, Mrs. W. B. McCurley; second, Mrs. Francis Fullerton. Tatting—first, Mrs. Seldon Byers; second, Mrs. Willis Gwin. Pillow slips—first, Miss Edna Cox; second, Mrs. John Norwood. White embroidery—first, Mrs. Howard Butler; second, Mrs. R. M. Haverfield. Crocheting—first, Mrs. Selson Byers; second, Mrs. Agnes Davidson. Hemstitching — Mrs. J. W. Fullerton. Quilting—first, Mrs. J. W. Fullerton; second, Mrs. Dawson. Rugs—Mrs. Norman Craig.

The premiums for baked goods were as follows: Layer cakes—first, Mrs. Wylie Brewster; second, Mrs. John Brewster. Biscuit—Mrs. J. N. Fullerton. Cookies — Mrs. Joe Davis. Graham gems — Mrs. Jas. PA NEWC OBSERVES the city observing the leap year birthday today. She is 84 years of age.

At noon today, two more had been added to the leap year birthday celebrators in New Castle and Lawrence county.

Two births reported today were:

A daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hood of Spruce street. She arrived at 5:45 o'clock, a. m., and has been named Delores Jean.

A son, to Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Brest of Butler avenue extension, who has been named, James Milton.

If one stands on the corner of Mill and Washington streets long enough Pa Newc is sure that one can see anything in the world from the latest in hosiery to the latest in neckwear. And he even might see some of the relics of former days when the benzine buggy addict was urged to "get a horse." Yesterday afternoon this reporter's jaw dropped open when he saw an old two wheeled sulky commanded by a wizened farmer held up by the traffic lights. And at the farmer's feet there rested a week's supply of groceries.

When one lingers about the downtown section after the traffic lights have signed off for the night he understand why street car operators get prematurely grey. Cars careen madly around turns directly in the paths of the electric vehicles much to the operator's consternation. Accidents are narrowly averted. If the drivers would use a little discretion in the down town section after lights go out Pa Newc believes that it would be better for the peace of mind of almost everyone.

Still a few more places remain in Lawrence county's list of eligibles for the summer Citizens Military Training camps says Captain Melvin L. Craig who is in charge of recruiting for this district. Aside from being a vacation the candidate will learn things military which may serve him well in later life.

Seek Reports On Pittston Killings

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—International officers of the United Mine Workers are giving every consideration to conditions in the Pittston, Pa., coal fields where a number of union leaders have been murdered recently, it was announced today.

Full reports on the situation have been requested by union headquarters. These are being studied carefully to determine what action should be taken.

FORMER COUNTY JUDGE DIES IN CLEVELAND, O.

eration and he passed away. His partner, Attorney Orville Brown, was at the bedside when death occurred.

Outstanding Lawyer

Ex-Judge Emery was an outstanding member of the Lawrence County Bar Association. Following his graduation from Geneva College in 1887, where he was graduated as an honor student, he studied law in this city and was admitted to the bar in 1889. Shortly after he was elected to the city council, and in 1891 was elected as district attorney, serving from 1892 until 1895. He was one of the youngest district attorneys who ever served in this county.

Following his retirement from the district attorney's office Judge Emery applied himself to the practice of law and was soon known as a brilliant criminal attorney. In a long list of capital cases he had but one client found guilty of murder in the first degree.

In 1915 he was elected as judge of Lawrence county and served with distinction until December 31, 1925. During his term of office he established a reputation over the state of Pennsylvania as a terror to evildoers, and upon many occasions his record was made the subject of editorial comment in papers over the state. In politics he was always a Republican.

Civic Worker

In civic affairs Judge Emery had been prominent for many years. He was never asked to co-operate in any movement designed to promote the interests of New Castle but what he did so cheerfully. For several years he had been president of the Lawrence County Boy Scouts and gave of his time and energies without stint toward the promotion of this splendid work.

Fraternally he was a member of New Castle lodge, No. 642, of the Free and Accepted Masons and of the other bodies comprising the New Castle Consistory. He was a member of the B. P. O. E., No. 69, the Protected Home Circle, the Loyal Order of Moose and the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He was also one of two honorary members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

In the passing of Judge Emery the ex-service men of New Castle have lost a faithful friend. He was never too busy to counsel with them or to aid them in their undertakings. When the Legion Home project was first discussed Judge Emery was at the head of the movement and largely through his work the project was put through successfully.

Son of Pioneer Family

Judge Emery was the son of a pioneer New Castle family. His grandfather, David Emery, was one of the early settlers here and was the first sheriff of Lawrence county. The late jurist was the son of William and Margaret Curry Emery, being born September 30, 1864, almost within sight of the present Emery home, at 118 East North street. He was a graduate of the New Castle public schools and of Geneva College.

Judge Emery was married to Sue Wirsing, and it seems rather touching that after a long married life of happiness they should be parted in death but a few short months. Mrs. Emery passed away on August 28, 1927.

New Castle will miss Judge S. Plummer Emery. His associates at the Lawrence County Bar Association will miss his keen mind and his staunch defense of his clients. The ex-service men will miss their friend and the Boy Scouts will miss their chief. The citizenry of New Castle and Lawrence county will miss a sterling citizen, one who loved his home city and was ever willing to use his talents in the advancement of her interests.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Curry Emery.

Announcement was made late this afternoon that funeral services would be conducted on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and would be private.

the district attorney's staff and county detectives. Chief County Detective Richard Powell rode part of the way home with them, and the men stopped at the detective's home to let him out of the car before they headed for Campbell's home, near which they were overtaken by the gunmen's car.

Pittston is fearful that other deaths will follow—for they know the mine feud code—an eye for an eye, a life for a life.

Meanwhile details of state police combed the northern section of the county and were reported to have taken four suspects into custody.

A detail of Pittston police was hurried to Old Forge, near the Lackawanna county line today on an unrevealed mission, presumably in pursuit of the murder gang.

GIANT DIRIGIBLE IS EXPECTED OVER CUBA LATE TODAY

Los Angeles was not expected to reach Cuba until late this afternoon, averaging about 40 miles an hour throughout the night, however, she clipped at least three hours from the original schedule.

Safely Moored

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles arrived at Guacanabbabo Bay, off the Cuban coast, and was successfully moored to the mast on the tender Patoka at 11:10 o'clock this morning, said a wireless to the Navy Department.

The Los Angeles had been in the air 25 hours since leaving France Field, Canal Zone, and averaged 33 1-2 miles an hour against fresh winds.

REVEAL ENGAGEMENT AT DINNER PARTY

Concealed in the ruffled blue and white skirt of an old fashioned doll was found the novel engagement announcements of Miss Virginia Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cole, Electric street, and John Morrissey of Lee avenue, when a prettily appointed dinner was served Tuesday evening in the Cole home. Baby's breath ferns and tall blue tapers in crystal holders formed the table appointments. A color scheme of blue and white prevailed and miniature dolls to which announcements were attached were used as favors.

The guests included members of the Joker club and special guests were Mrs. Joseph Baskeyfield, Miss Clara Dart of this city and Miss Carolyn Boyd of Beaver.

The hostess had as aides Mrs. Rubert Price, Mrs. May Garner and Miss Virginia Riley.

The evening hours were spent pleasantly with 500 and prizes were awarded Miss Elizabeth Travers, Miss Betty Isaac and Miss Clara Dart.

Miss Cole is employed with the Bell Telephone company and Mr. Morrissey is employed in the terminal office of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

The engagement will terminate in a summer wedding.

Stevenson-Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Stevenson of Princeton, announce the marriage of their daughter Frances to Harry A. Gardner of Wampum. The ceremony took place Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. Paul Elliott pastor of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church who officiated with the ring ceremony.

The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of blue silk crepe with matching accessories. They were unattended.

A wedding dinner for the immediate families at the bride's home supplemented the ceremony.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gardner will reside near Ellwood City.

To Wed March 10

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Dorothy Roll of Coraopolis, and Russell Weller of Buffalo, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weller of Mercer, Pa. The ceremony will be solemnized March 10.

Quota Club.

The Quota club met Tuesday evening at the Elks club. The special feature was a talk by Miss Hazel Belle Withrow, metropolitan secretary of Girl Reserve work at Pittsburgh on Girl's Service Work as it should be.

She says: A chance to grow is the need of every girl, a chance to reach out and get new ideas, new impressions, acquire new skill and make it a part of her life—which may be called education. Every girl is not situated so that she has this chance to grow, instead she is dwarfed and warped. The purpose of our service work is to help change these surroundings and provide the inspiration so that the girl can grow. We cannot do it by setting her down in a certain place and saying you will do a certain thing, she must grow out of her own soil and build on her own foundation. What we must do is remove the obstacles and have the patience and love to stand by her and help her develop.

The talk was exceedingly interesting to the club as Miss Witherow has had very comprehensive experience in the line of Girl's service work.

The house committee worked out some very clever and novel Leap Year decorations for the tables.

It was decided that several representatives would attend the intercities meeting at Wilmington, Del., on March 17.

STOP BAD BREATH
People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.
Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.
Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.
Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

GASOLINE TAX IN ILLINOIS

THE decision of the Illinois supreme court, rejecting the state gasoline tax, as recently handed down puts that state in a class with Massachusetts, where a popular referendum killed the measure, and with New York, where the legislation has never been enacted. All other states, as well as the District of Columbia, are employing this method of financing highway work, feeling that it puts the burden on the motorists in the proportion that he uses and damages the roads.

The rejection in Illinois is particularly interesting here in Pennsylvania where motorists are paying millions yearly in gas tax, the rate being three cents per gallon at the present time. The tax is accepted in this state as a fair means of highway maintenance.

In Illinois the decision found several errors in the Illinois law. One was a provision for refunding the tax when the gasoline was used for purposes other than automobile fuel. The Pennsylvania statute does not recognize this distinction. It is true, of course, that the man who buys gasoline power for domestic, manufacturing or farm purposes is causing no wear to the highways. Particularly is it true in the operation of a motorboat. Yet if the Pennsylvania statute had attempted to cover all these cases, it might have created discrimination in another way, as the court finds the Illinois law has done.

The court also criticised a tax on liquid fuel which exempted kerosene. We overcome that difficulty in this state by having a separate act for the exemption of kerosene. Thus if anybody wishes to test its validity, an adverse decision will not impugn the general law which levies the tax.

The court further noted a double taxation of the motorist, the second tax being his license. It is not easy to see how that construction would impress courts here. Some persons, however, did feel that transportation companies were doubly assessed and a measure was introduced last year at Harrisburg allowing corporations, particularly transportation companies, a credit on their state taxes in the amount they might pay for fuel taxes. It passed the senate, but failed in the house.

The remaining indictments against the Illinois tax cannot, in the absence of the full text of the decision, be studied in reference to the situation here. Enough has been cited, however, to indicate that the statute was hastily drawn.

MORE CATTLE PER PERSON IN 1927

THE AMOUNT of livestock on Pennsylvania farms has decreased 20 per cent in the last fifty years, but the value of livestock products has more than doubled. This summary from the Bureau of Statistics at Harrisburg, taken by itself, could hardly be called pleasant news. The comparisons in dollar terms are irrelevant; for the dollar is not wealth, merely the symbol of wealth. It is a most unstable standard of measurement with its variable purchasing power over any long period. Fewer animals and more population means less meat and drink per person.

Fortunately, these inferences are not warranted when more complete facts are available. In 1927 the trend was reversed and animal production began to climb upward. While the net result for half a century still gives an annual average below what could be desired, nevertheless it is encouraging to find the pendulum swinging in an opposite direction for the first time since postwar conditions raised havoc with agriculture.

The number of cows, for instance, increased 10,000 last year. Improved breeding, feeding and tuberculosis eradication have increased annual milk production forty to fifty gallons per animal in the last eight years. The sheep industry, declining since the Civil War, leaped forward with a gain of 37,000 head. The average weight of fleece is said to be 1.5 pounds heavier than thirteen years ago. Swine, also, caught the anti-race suicide spirit with a daily increment of 300 hogs.

Pennsylvania now ranks with the fourteen leading livestock states. The upward turn last year is a tribute to the co-operation received from the State Department of Agriculture.

RICH RESOURCES

IF THE Russian government could have sold $5,000,000 worth of pulp timber as it stood in the forests of southeastern Alaska in 1867, when Secretary Seward purchased the entire territory for the insignificant sum of $7,200,000, the czar of Russia would not have signed the document that transferred Alaska to the United States, and Mr. Seward would not have been lampooned as a wastrel for throwing away public funds.

There is now being cut in Alaska, under a single contract, a timber tract that will produce more than enough revenue for Uncle Sam to repay him for the millions involved in "Seward's Folly." And the cutting of this timber is not in conflict with the nation's conservation program. Instead of leaving the old trees die and rot, they will be cut for their valuable wood and young and healthier trees will rise in their place.

Since the United States built the Alaskan railroad a controversy has waged that compares with that provoked when Seward signed the treaty for the purchase of Alaska. The present congress has added fuel to it my giving more than ordinary attention to the question. But controversies and congressional debates are a long way from getting the public out of the notion that it was a bargain and that the American people have been repaid many times.

Alaskan coal, which with the aid of an Alaskan railroad it was once thought would lower the price of coal in the United States, was found, after completion of the railroad, to be of too poor quality for the market in the states. But the furs, fish, minerals and lumber coming out of Alaska each year more than compensate for this disappointment.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:52. Sun rises tomorrow 6:34.

George Remus, noted bootlegger now in the Lima, O., state hospital for insane because he was found to have been insane when he killed his wife, is now sorry for his crime. It's a great time to express regret after taking life. There must be something about the insane asylum he don't like.

Cab drivers of Flushing have discovered a new diversion. They gather at a restaurant and hold spelling bees. Each man contributes a dollar to the pool and the winner takes all. Most of them are said to be spending the spare moments pouring over dictionaries. We've always heard that it pays to have an education, but this gambling method is a decidedly new one on us.

Saul Eskind, 30, boss painter of Brooklyn, N. Y., will spend the next two years in Sing Sing prison for larceny. And all because he pursuaded six members of the gentler sex to give him their life savings on the pretense of furnishing a home to which he was to take them as his wife. Never thought there were that many easy women in the world, let alone New York City and vicinity.

Now they have discovered a method of effecting secrecy in the transmission of a voice by radio. It should prove a considerable boom where a fellow wanted to do a little long distance broadcasting without telling the whole world about it.

There is one thing that every man should remember, and that is, that the average woman has a long memory and does not easily forget. Major Ernest C. Schroeder, prohibition agent, has just learned this, because just at the time in his trial with others for the alleged shaking down a road house proprietor, that he needed friends, a woman, who claimed to have been in on a business deal with him six years previously, testified that his reputation was bad, alleging that he had treated her unfairly. Just another case of a little bad judgment.

You simply can't keep them down. We mean the airplane flyers, who are constantly after some record or other. France now claims the champion aerial loop artist, Alfred Fronval making 1,111 loops in four hours and 56 minutes. We're satisfied to let France have that honor.

Heidelberg university is reported to have discovered a new comet. As we understand it, it is simply another star. If that's all it is, how easy it would be to discover one right at home. We've often heard of persons seeing stars and they were not comets either.

The Prince of Wales and Prince Henry in attending a dance held by the British Legion, took their partners irrespective of rank. Must admit it shows they're pretty good fellows, also long headed ones. It may prolong their job on the payroll of the British empire.

Whatever else may be said of Henry Ford, there is no doubt but that his present success is due to his foresight. His latest move is to raise his own rubber in Brazil. That means that there will be little inflation in the price of Fords, and also that the famous lizzie will always belong to the rubber tire class.

There is little doubt but that the cost of living in France is going up. France has imposed heavy duties on American canned goods and frozen meats and canned pineapples. Why would it not be a good move to supplant American made perfumes and toilet articles for those of French manufacture, just to remind our friends, who wanted us and our goods in 1917-1918, that we can get along without them?

Iceland, we see, wants to be independent of Denmark, with which country it has been united for many years. Iceland may be largely a frozen desolate country, but there's one thing about it, it has long been known as one of the world's progressive communities. It takes more than ice, snow or cold weather to keep the progressive individuals down.

The United States at this moment is in danger of putting into the discard one of the principles enunciated in the pre-constitution days, that private property of an enemy is exempt from seizure during war. It's more than nine years since the armistice put an end to the World war. Yet this country still holds a quarter of a billion dollars worth of property of subjects of former enemy countries. If we would continue to expect other nations to respect our policies, we should think seriously of living up to one we first established.

Japan has just passed through its first election in which those persons over 25 years of age, who have an established residence and can read and write, were permitted to vote. It is interesting to note that the new voters were not entirely in accord with a government that is not entirely representative of the people.

Family pride is absurd. Trace the family back, whoever you are, and soon or late you run into side whiskers.

Representative Sproul, Republican of Kansas, is the author of a prohibition enforcement act which, if approved, will certainly make some of the opponents of the Volstead act wish they had never been against it. It designates the "bootlegger" as one who gives away liquor, gives address of a seller to a friend or gives a tip on how to manufacture intoxicating liquors. There must be a lot of "bootleggers", if that definition is approved by Webster.

Motorists of Illinois certainly have reason to be more or less thankful, at least for the present. The gasoline tax imposed by that state has just been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of that state chiefly on the ground that it applied only to gasoline used for automobile purposes. It's probable that their joy will be short lived because the legislature of that state will find some other way of getting the money.

If he thinks you haven't anything, and treats what you think you've got, he is called a neurologist.

Leo Youdivich, New York City, thought this was Russia or some other place like that, when he administered a beating to his wife. Magistrate Gresser, before whom he was taken, expressed the opinion that the whipping post was the thing for a man like that. The whipping post, we fear, might be too easy.

Lieb Feld of Poland has just died at the rare old age of 125 years and after having completed one hundred years of wedded bliss. Pretty good evidence that the assertion that the married man lives longer than the bachelor is true.

Fear is even more powerful than wood alcohol. For Joseph Fuchtio, aged 20, an electrician, after boarding an elevated train in New York, began to read. In a short time, panic-stricken, he declared that he was going blind. Taken to a hospital, it was found that he was blind temporarily and all because of fear. Fear has caused many a person to lose the opportunity of a lifetime.

Women employed in the government, postal, telegraph and telephone services of Germany, it has been decreed, must wear uniform skirts extending at least eight inches below the knees. The woman effected have protested, declaring that the order is neither in accord with the times or practicable. There's one thing about it, it will probably result in improved work on the part of the fellow male employes.

Students of both sexes at the University of Rochester have disapproved of the so-called companionate marriages. The women showed a more marked aversion than the men. Begins to look as if some of our institutions of learning are fostering the higher ideals of life.

Fearing a surgical operation, Leo Bruck, school teacher in Hungary, like Socrates, died among his pupils after draining a glass of poison. Just another poor example for the rising generation.

Cornelius M. Oudyk, New York, is again a free man and all because his wife had forgotten to inform him of the fact that she had been married three other times and had a daughter 18 years of age. She told him her daughter was a cousin. What some women do to get a husband!

Hint to those who would abolish war: Pray more and prey less.

The donkey is so unappropriate as a Democratic emblem! It can't kick itself.

We hope the chap who writes winter resort literature makes enough to afford a nice fur overcoat.

But listen, Republicans: Bryan was nominated in that same convention hall, and—

Still, it's a good sign if people don't stay at home now that the liquor is kept there.

Short history of Russia since the war: Somebody kicking out somebody.

His knack of being right on time is going to save Lindbergh's ears considerable labor when at last he is led to the altar.

The dogs of war would keep quiet if diplomats weren't so catty.

Americanism: Delighting in little slander stories about the great and near-great.

The cheap cars now give everything one might desire except the impression that one could afford a better one.

It isn't right to use the camel as an emblem of a "dry" politician. The camel can go nine days without a drink.

Why not just admit that all murderers are crazy and lock them up for life without the formality of a trial?

You can say this for Voliva of Zion City. He's traveling, and it takes nerve to travel across a world that has an edge one may fall over into space.

In days of old the knights were bold. They had to be, because the ladies of that day wouldn't start anything.

Remember, if you make $100 a month and installment payments on the car are $52 a month, you'll have only $48 a month to spend for gasoline.

New-style shoes are proposed for Uncle Sam's fighting men, possibly because the ones used now don't fit Latin-America's neck.

Insult and Temptation.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

The Federal Reserve reports cheerful business conditions. Production of steel ingots increased 25 per cent in January, general manufactured products increased 6 per cent. This country is in good shape, richest, most prosperous, most fortunate on earth.

If government will put some of its surplus to work on the Mississippi and the Boulder Dam development, all will be serene.

Distributing water and fertilizer makes farms productive, distributing cash makes nations prosperous.

The Rev. Rudolph Petter, devoted missionary on the Northern Cheyenne Reservation in Montana, is translating the Bible from Hebrew and Greek into the language of the Cheyenne Indians. Translating the New Testament must be difficult. Fighting Cheyennes did not talk the language of Christianity.

The reverend translator can sympathize with old Maimonides, who translated the Greek philosophers into Hebrew. He had to invent Hebrew words to express abstract Greek ideas that did not exist in the Hebrew language. Because he did that, the great synagogue in Spain excommunicated him.

That did not worry the justly reverend "Rambam." He had a good job as physician to the ruler of Egypt, and lived safely with that wise and tolerant Mohammedan.

Pope Pius in a ceremony honoring the memory of the venerable Elisabetta Mora, refers to the immodesty in dress of some modern women as "insults to the eyes of God and cause for temptation or disgust in the eyes of the world."

That is no exaggeration. It took women a million years to learn to dress modestly. They overdid it with their veils, hoop skirts, bustles, etc. Now they are rapidly going the other way. A strange, daring sex.

The late Arthur Brisbane, more than eighty years ago, suggested that large apartment houses with central heating plants and water automatically distributed should be built as an improvement on the "isolated household." Some old fashioned, that knew little, did not mind seeing their wives carry water from the pump, said, "Americans will never live herded together."

Now Dr. Albert E. Douglass of the University of Arizona, exploring the Bueblo Bonito in New Mexico, finds an early American about a thousand years old, that housed 2,000 early Americans.

Dr. Douglass can tell by rings in trees that have grown up since its abandonment, how old the apartment house is.

Mrs. Eva Dugan, aged 50, convicted of killing a man in Arizona, must be sentenced to hang.

Arizona has never hanged a woman.

Will that state officially kill its first woman in 1928? A woman of 50 can be disposed of with safety to the public, without submitting the state to the degradation of choking an old woman to death. It should be difficult to find, in Arizona, any man willing to undertake that job.

Miss Fannie May Davis, one of many interesting religious workers that make California better and brighter, dies, leaving to her relatives "the priceless memory of companionship with me," and leaving $15,000,000 to a gentleman friend, Isaac J. Isaacson. Her will says that giving money to Mr. Isaacson is "not an act of human mind but a direct order from Providence." A wise judge will investigate that statement.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

TIME TO GROW

Authorities at the University of Wisconsin announce that several hundred "children" who entered the university last autumn are not coming back next autumn. And they use the word "children". These freshmen somewhere got the idea that college was a glorified playground. They went away to college to rejoice and grow fat. It never occurred to them that it was a place of work and preparation. No use sending boys to college who have not sufficiently grown up to know what it's all about. Or, at least, if they don't learn what they are there for by the middle of the year they had better go back to papa's mill.

Who Runs for Glory.

Who runs for glory passes by
A thousand lovely things.
The roses seldom catch his eye,
In vain the song bird sings.

The fairest tree God ever made
He will not pause to see
Or rest beneath its pleasant shade
So pressed a man is he.

So brief is life, so swift the pace
That he who would be great
Must hasten on and turn his face
From many a friendly gate.

He must not fare the little lanes
Where kindly people stray,
Nor quit achievements irksome pain
With merry folk to play.

And when at last fame writes him down
Upon her little list,
I wonder if he finds renown
Worth all the joy's he's missed.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THREE THINGS

Gabriel Wells had a Christmas card in which he says that there are three things that constitute a rounded out life: Power, Pleasure and Peace.

The more we think of it the more this seems to be a very good definition.

There is not much satisfaction in a life of no power. What gives zest to sports is the employment of our powers and we all applaud the victor, that is, the man who shows the most power. This includes both mentality or mental acumen and skill.

As for pleasure, they have learned a great lesson who have found out the abiding pleasures of life are those that come from serving others. The pleasures that we experience in merely receiving gifts or benefits, merely enjoying things that are our own, the pleasures of possession and amusement are temporary and they fade.

But one who devotes his life to bringing joy into the lives of others has an unfailing source of satisfaction.

Peace comes from the firm establishment or connection of life with certain fixed principles. There are some things which, when we have decided upon them, we lay on the shelf. They are not to be reopened. One who is continually arguing the fundamentals is always in hot water and unsatisfied.

That is the advantage of a belief in God. It is something fixed and settled, a central sun about which all of our other thoughts and opinions may revolve.

Of course the belief in God does not imply any congeries of fantastic connotations. One's belief in God may take many forms, but it must have a central core of repose. A life without inner repose is constantly buffeted to and fro by contrary passions.

One who has power sufficient to enjoy his ability to overcome obstacles, who takes pleasure in giving pleasure to others, and who has inner repose enough to keep him content in the center of his being, can be truly said to live a somewhat complete life.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THINK ON IT.

If you don't believe that the Federal Commissions are everybodys' affair, read this and if you have tears, "get at one."

The Federal Trade Commission, constituted by the Congress of the United States of America—Just one little Commission—on February 5th announced that it had laid down two rules prohibiting the payment of special fees to professional golf players for use of golf balls made by a particular Company. These two rules were adopted and promulgated by the Trade Commission prohibiting the use of the following practices:

(1) The paying secretly of yearly salaries to professional golf players in order to have them play the golf ball of a particular manufacturing or marketing Company.

(2) The paying secretly of special prize money to professional golf players to win matches or tournaments by the Company whose ball has been played by the winning player.

To be sure the order of the Trade Commision was based upon the result of a conference of the golf ball industry in Cleveland, Ohio, last October. There were present at the conference representatives from a great many of the golf ball manufacturers and manufacturers' agents, but all of the golf ball manufacturers were not there and every golf ball manufacturer is bound by the order of the Trade Commission, for these Commissions are judges, juries and executioners.

Some of these days some Commission is going to go further than the Britishers did when they barred Jock Hutchinson's scored clubs from competing in the British Open several years ago or when the United States Golf Association barred certain of the Schenectady putters. Perhaps, they will determine what garments the lady contestants will wear on the golf links, but this is unthinkable.

Just A Bit Contrary

As Told To Idah McGlone Gibson
By Annabelle Lee

"I wonder if every young person has the same feeling on this subject as I," said Annabelle Lee, "or if I am a little different, a little more stubborn than other girls of my own age and environment.

"I hate to be commanded to do something. I will do anything for anyone who asks it as a favor, but to have somebody say 'do thus or so' is like shaking a red rag at the proverbial bull.

"You know, Mrs. Gibson, that I have the dearest little mother in the world, but she never asks me to do anything for her with what I call a 'pretty please,' although she expects me to thank her profusely when she does for me what I have asked.

"Come and set the table she calls from the kitchen. When she says this she expects me to drop everything I am doing at the time and start for the dining-room with the regularity and dispatch of a drill sergeant at command of his higher officer. I may be in the middle of a most interesting conversation with Dad, a conversation that I hope will end in his giving me five dollars to buy one of the new felt hats, but whatever it is I must start almost before the echo of the last word dies away.

"I hate most awfully to feel that I am ever at anyone's beck and call. I always know that I have to set the table and I know I will do it before Mother has the food ready. I always have done this since I was old enough to do so without breaking the dishes.

"Mother knows that but she never fails to call me in a most peremptory tone of voice long before there is any need of it being done. As it is I usually leave it much longer than I would if she had not issued her commands. Mother seems to think I would not, but she has never given me a chance to show her that I would. Do you think I am an unruly child, Mrs. Gibson?"

"Yes, dear," I answered.

"In the first place you, knowing that your mother is always impatient about the table being set, should go as soon as she goes to the kitchen and get it over as soon as she begins the meal. But having waited until she asks, it would be no more than the politeness you would give a stranger who asked of you a favor to do it immediately."

C. B. D. CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

USEFUL FOLK

Dr. Bailey K. Ashford, who has saved more lives than any other one person I can call to mind just now, has retired from the United States army, in which he has long held a commission as colonel.

I met Dr. Ashford in San Juan, Porto Rico, several years ago. We had one of those pleasant conversations that is especially pleasing because of the things that it is necessary to leave unsaid. We had only about a half hour for talk, and each of us tried to say a good deal during that short time. It seemed that we found innumerable matters of mutual interest to talk about. Ashford was interested in writing and writers, and I was vastly interested in the great work that this life-saver was doing.

Dr. Ashford almost invented the hookworm. Well, he didn't exactly invent it, but he made it famous. He dragged the hookworm out into the light of science, and then the hookworm turned pale and passed away.

Working for nearly 30 years on tropical diseases, Dr. Ashford discovered that the hookworm was the cause of much of the laziness of natives in tropical lands. He told me that the hookworm could be eliminated as a cause of illness if the natives could be induced to wear shoes. Since the parasite was in the soil, it easily penetrated the bare feet of the inhabitants, he said.

Dr. Ashford has been very successful in fighting tropical diseases. Hundreds of thousands of persons now living in the tropics are alive because of this man's work. I am sorry to hear that his retirement is due to physical disability. I hope he will live many years, and will be duly honored by the whole world while he is still living.

We haven't too many useful folk in the world. So widespread is the notion that the possession of much money is a measure of ability, that our young people are quite generally deterred from entering careers of usefulness unless there is a prospect of big money for them.

Dr. Ashford has never had time to think about money. He has lived on an army man's salary, and he had done work that has been worth countless millions of dollars, from an economic standpoint. I presume he will live on a very modest income for the rest of his life. You can't always measure the usefulness of a citizen by the size of that citizen's bank account.

Couple Escapes Injury As Car Takes Plunge Over Steep Hillside

Tom Mix and other gentry of the movie colony have become famous on the silver sheet as the result of their ability to escape miraculously, the pictures would have one believe, when horses they ride catapult from high cliffs or when autos tumble into canyons.

These famed persons know how it feels to come within an ace of crossing the Great Divide, but there are two persons here today who know how it feels to plunge in an automobile down a cliff approximately 150 feet deep at a 60 per cent degree drop, land safe, cross a brook and emerge from the car uninjured.

They are Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Carr, Eddy street, and though somewhat shocked they were able to smile at their escape today.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Carr, in their coupe, started through Eddy to Robinson street.

Reaching the intersection a truck blocked their progress. In some manner after applying the brakes the car started.

It leaped over the cliff and sped down the hillside. The car veered aside at a large tree.

The coupe was racing on its four wheels when it struck the bottom, crossed a brook and ran another 100 feet.

The car was practically undamaged, not a splinter of glass being broken in the windshield or window.

Special Music At Lenton Services In Trinity Church

The first of the mid-week Wednesday evening Lenten services will be held tonight in Trinity church at 8 o'clock and will consist of the Litany, hymns, sermon, offering closing prayers and benediction. This means a short service, but one appropriate to the season giving full opportunity to the visiting preacher. Tonight he is Dean Blodgett of the Cathedral in Erie and one of the most gifted men in the Episcopal church in Western Pennsylvania. The choir will sing, Prof. Paul B. Patterson at the organ.

The attendance yesterday at the first of the special services for children and young people was the largest thus far during recent years.

Mercer County To Build 4 Bridges

Four Reinforced Concrete Bridges Costing $50,000 To Be Built This Season

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 29. — Four bridges to cost $50,000 are to be built in Mercer county this summer according to decision made by the board of county commissioners of Mercer county at a meeting held Wednesday morning, February 29.

Two of the bridges which are to be built in Perry township have the schedules completed and bids will soon be let for them. The other two located on the Perry Highway south of Mercer will not be let until the contract for the improvement of the road has been let.

All the bridges are to be built of concrete reinforced with steel.

Revival Opens In Croton M. E. Church

Good attendance and a growing interest are features of the evangelistic services which opened Monday evening in the Croton Avenue M. E. church.

The pastor, Rev. T. W. English is in charge of the meetings and is speaking each evening. This evening will be observed as Junior League Night. The Junior choir will sing.

The meetings will continue for several weeks. On March 11, Rev. Bensinger of Plainsville will assist the pastor at the services.

by trying artificially to make a good impression.

You can not transmit what you do not have. You will only make yourself ridiculous by pretending that you have it. And if you do have it, you will transmit it in spite of yourself.

If we will give up the intense effort to make this good impression the time will come when we will transmit what we are and what we have naturally and with poise.

LUDWIG

Ludwig, great German biographer, seems to have a real sense of values. Asked what is his greatest work, he promptly answers, "my son". Asked what he considered which of his books he most enjoyed writing he answers, "my next".

Here is a man who knows what's what and who has the invincible spirit that is forever looking forward to something better. The man or woman who can say, "my next work is my best work," is still on the way up.

THE WAY TO JOY

It is a human tendency for many, growing tired and a little hard-pushed by the force of circumstances, to think of an ideal world where we would have fewer responsibilities and have to make fewer sacrifices. We think of a world with less work, fewer cases, more idleness, and more so-called pleasure. Thinking thus, we show a lack of understanding of the human being as he is constituted at his best. It is work and sacrifice and responsibility that give substance and meaning to life. No normal person can attain happiness by the elimination of cares, of responsibilities, of work. We are so made that our greatest joy must come in our courageous application to these things.

THE MAN WHO COMPLAINS

Around a hotel is usually the one who has the least at home.
Soon has the world organized against him.
Never increases his opportunities nor improves his standing.
That the world is rotten is usually confessing his own state of mind.
That he has no chance can at least get busy and make one.
About the church may find that it has improved since he was there.
About the weather ought to try doing something about it.

Mellon Besieged With Inquiries

Report Gains Circulation That Morin Is To Be Offered State Post

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29.—The office of W. L. Mellon, Republican state committee chairman, was beseiged today with queries regarding reports that have gained circulation here to the effect that Congressman John M. Morin is to be offered the secretaryship of the state department of labor to keep him from running against Senator David A. Reed in the coming primary.

No comment was forthcoming from Mellon's office on the report, which indicated that Morin would be eased into the position vacated by Charles A. Waters when the latter, already slated as the organization candidate for auditor general, leaves the Fisher cabinet.

If Morin is to oppose Senator Reed he must file nominating petitions with the secretary of the commonwealth before 5 p. m. next Monday.

Game Killed In Past Year Valuable

If It Has A Commercial Value, It Would Run Into Millions Of Dollars

The hunting season of last year was the most successful of any in the history of the state, not only in the matter of game secured by the sportsmen of the state, but in most every way.

One of the unsatisfactory conditions of this as well as of other hunting seasons, was the number of unfortunate accidents, fatal and non-fatal, which resulted largely from one kind of carelessness or another.

There were 344 accidents in all, of which 65, or 19 per cent, were fatal. Thirty-seven of these fatal accidents were self-inflicted while 28 were inflicted by others. Thirty-one of the fatal accidents occurred on open fields, 30 in wooded lands and four in conveyances. In the fatal accidents, there was a instance where one of the victims was mistaken for a bear, one for a squirrel and one for a groundhog.

Perhaps the most interesting phase of the hunting season is the actual value of the game killed by the hunters of the state. Of course the game has no commercial value under the game laws, but for the sake of estimating the value of the meat obtained, a value of 25 cents a pound would be fair.

The game killed in 1927 totaled 11,414,322 pounds or approximately 5,707 pounds. At a valuation of 25 cents a pound, this would have a value of $2,853,580.50.

Deer killed in 1927 totaled 14,374 as compared with 12,941 in 1926. There was also a pronounced increase in the number of rabbits killed in 1927, when the number was 3,446,391 as compared with 1926 when the number was 2,757,544.

There was also an increase in the number of elk killed. There was a decrease in the number of bears, squirrels, raccoons and some other game.

Game of all kinds is on the increase in the state and Pennsylvania is fast becoming one of the hunting paradises of the country.

Local Marauders Being Tried By U. S. Government

Chief Of Police Morrison Cannot Get Boys Until Government Tries Them

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—Chief of Police Morrison journeyed to Pittsburgh yesterday for the purpose of bringing back for trial four boys who were guilty, according to the police, of stealing a car from the Patton-Campbell garage of this city, and clothing from the A. E. Conner store.

Upon his arrival in Pittsburgh he discovered that the boys had been charged by the government officials, with robbing the post office, and petty thefts around the Bertha Mining towns. They will therefore be tried on the above charges before being released to face trial on the local charges. Chief Morrison in an interview this morning, was unable to state just when they could be brought here.

The boys, who are: Martin O'Hara, aged 17; Sylvester Barton, aged 19; William Hagmier, aged 17, and Charles Shelby, aged 17, seem to be victims of environment, being left without parental jurisdiction, and simply grew as best they could, sleeping in the back seats of taxi-cabs. They claimed they had not slept in a bed this winter. While in Pittsburgh the local chief was treated very nicely, and assured that as soon as the government authorities were through with the boys, they would be turned over to him.

Union Services Tax Church To Capacity All This Week

Children's Chorus Contributes Several Pleasing Selections Last Night

Rev. Hugh Maxwell Gives Very Fine Sermon On Evangelistic Subject

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29—The auditorium of the First United Presbyterian church of this city was again taxed to capacity for the third of the union services of the week Tuesday night.

The program opened with a song service led by Homer Welch and his chorus of 65 voices, gathered from the choirs of the local churches. Mr. Welch also contributed a fine solo. A special feature was a children's chorus which sang several pleasing selections.

The sermon of the evening was delivered by Rev. Hugh Maxwell, a splendid discourse on the subject "Is it Well With Thee," embodying the theme of people forgetting God in the joys of this earthly life—forgetting him until in sickness and death they are frightened into turning to him. He also brought out the important point that parents are in need of an awakened interest in the spiritual well being of their children.

Another feature of the meeting was that 35 young people expressed their desire to join the church and met with the ministers and Mr. Welch at the close of the service.

The next union meeting will take place this evening in the church at 7:30 o'clock.

Studio Music Club Has First Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—Miss Marian Slocum, prominent pianist of Ellwood City, has organized a studio music club for her pupils. The initial meeting took place Tuesday evening at the Slocum home on Park avenue with the following program presented:

Piano solos by George Dodds, Betty Luman, John Clyde and Bobby Grannis. The balance of the evening was devoted to a lecture-recital on the well known composer, Edward McDowell, with illustrating piano selections by Miss Frances Romak and Miss Slocum. Later light refreshments were served. The club will meet once each month.

GUILD MEETING

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—The Ladies' Guild of the Knox Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting Thursday.

Mesdames Hall and Hardy will be the hostesses for the day. A business meeting will be held at this time.

Plans Go Forward For Produce Show

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—Plans are progressing nicely for the food and produce show, the first of its kind in Ellwood City, which will take place Monday evening in the First Presbyterian church.

William Smedley of Pittsburgh will be present in the interest of organizing a growers' association.

At 6:30 a banquet will be served to the men participating in the show, their wives and members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and their wives. The menu will be served by members of the Quota club.

Mrs. Smith of the Smith Noodle company, heads the committee on arrangements.

Rev. E. H. Bonsall Speaks At District Conference Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—Ellwood City people are fortunate in having an opportunity of hearing Rev. Edward H. Bonsall at the young people's conference to be held Tuesday afternoon and evening in the United Presbyterian church. All the campers and many other local people have heard and know Rev. Bonsall, better known as "Bonnie", and are glad to be able to meet him again.

Rev. Bonsall is superintendent of the young people's division of the State Sabbath School association, and in that capacity has done a noteworthy work in promoting the summer camps and the activity of young people in the churches of Pennsylvania, as well as the nation.

At this conference Rev. Bonsall will discuss religious training and education, a subject that is confronting the school and religious leaders of the day.

Young Couple Wed Tuesday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 28.—Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the Manse of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church Miss Ella Frances Stevenson of Princeton became the wife of Harry A. Gardner of Smiley Stop.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul Elliott of the Slippery Rock church. The bride wore a charming ensemble of copenhagen blue crepe de chine. At the conclusion of a brief post-nuptial trip, the young couple will be at home to their friends, at Smiley Stop.

WILLING WORKERS.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 29.—Members of the Willing Workers class taught by Mrs. W. H. Howell of the First Christian church will meet Thursday evening for their regular monthly session at the church. Mrs. Milnes president will be in charge of the business session and Mrs. Lula Hines will preside over the program.

—Faulk's Studio

Coatesville, Pa.—"A year ago I was the most miserable of men, my back was so stiff and sore that I could not do any work without suffering. I had absolutely no control of the bladder (day or night) and I noticed a sediment like brick dust in the excretion. I took various remedies without finding relief and my wife finally wrote to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel for advice. We followed that advice by purchasing at the drug store a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets and that bottle of medicine surely did do wonders for me. The urine cleared up and my kidneys and bladder ceased to give any distress and I am now feeling just fine. I have recently started on my second bottle of 'Anuric' to keep my kidneys in good condition thru the winter. I am surely thankful to Dr. Pierce for placing this splendid medicine within my reach."—Levi R. Ebelhar, 335 Charles St.

Epworth League Leap Year Party Proves Success

Party Is Tuesday Evening In Ward; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

The Leap Year party in the Mahoning M. E. church Tuesday evening was very successful. A good crowd was in attendance and an enjoyable evening was spent. The party was given by the members of the Senior Epworth League of the Mahoning M. E. church.

During the evening a short entertainment program was presented. The program consisted of a leap frog race. A humorous sketch, "Help, Help, I'm Married," by Henry Hamilton. Other numbers on the program were a round of Dusty Miller, songs and other games and contests. Several prizes were awarded in the contests.

At a seasonable hour refreshments were served by the committee. A color scheme of red and white was carried out in decorations. The refreshment committee was comprised of Mrs. David Daye Sleppy, Mrs. M. C. Adams and Mrs. Omar Mauck. Aides in serving were Misses Doris Tackitt, Frances Hyde, Henrietta and Helen Emerick.

Mrs. Henry Hamilton was general chairman in charge of the arrangements for the party. The party was a success and all present had a most enjoyable time.

Accident Occurrs Tuesday Afternoon At Pennsylvania Shops

Frank E. Gibson of 306 N. Cedar street was burned while at work at the Pennsylvania railroad shops on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Gibson, a stationary engineer in the boiler room at the shops, was at work when a flue bursted, releasing boiling steam into the room. Mr. Gibson was burned by the steam about his limbs, hands and face. The accident occurred about 4 o'clock, Mr. Gibson having gone to work at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Gibson was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital, where his condition, though painful, is not considered serious.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have beautiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Penumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

County Basketball Championship Will Be Decided March 7-10

GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 29.—Drawings have been announced by Robert E. Thorn athletic director of Grove City college of positions on the various teams which will participate in the annual Mercer County Interscholastic Basketball tournament which will be staged in the Ketler gymnasium March 7, 8, 9 and 10.

According to the drawings Greenville will play the runner-up in the Class B tournament which starts tomorrow night at Greenville under the auspices of Thiel college in the first game on the evening of March 7 and Sharpsville will play the Class B. champions in the second tilt of the evening.

Sharon will meet Farrell in the first game on Thursday night while Grove City will play Mercer high in the second game.

The semi--finals between the four winners of the first two nights play will be run off on Friday night, March 9 and the final game for the championship of Mercer county will be staged Saturday March 10. Dan Brickley and W. J. Dalzall both of Pittsburgh will officiate at the tournament games.

Pushing Plans For Local Auto Show In March

With 82 cars on display, the biggest automobile show ever to be held in Lawrence county will open at the Scottish Rite Cathedral March 22, and will continue until March 24 is the announcement made this morning by Ray F. Hall, executive secretary of the Lawrence County Automobile Dealers Association.

To supplement the auto display, ten booths where accessories will be shown, have been set up along the walls of the cathedral dining rooms and ball room. It is also possible that a display of light trucks will also be shown.

Entertainment, to a large extent, will be furnished by local talent, says Mr. Hall. An orchestra will be playing from the moment that the show opens until it closes.

Rockefeller Is Active Member Of Probe Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is actively aiding the Senate Public Lands Committee in tracing the Continental Trading Company's mysterious $3,080,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund," it was learned Tuesday.

Rockefeller has requested the committee to send him several additional copies of the hearings held thus far. While on the witness stand here several weeks ago, he promised to have a search instituted in all his companies for trace of the Continental securities. He was sent a list of the numbers of all the known Continental bonds for checking purposes. The committee believed that some of the bonds might have been purchased on the market by some of Rockefeller's many companies.

The multi-millionaire has not yet reported any trace of the missing bonds.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A STYLISH STRANGER.

"Stop! I command you in the name of the law!"—

"Wait a minute, can't you?"—

"Now don't lose your temper, Sergeant."—

"Bill off me cousin. Don't you dare try any of your police methods on me. I am as good an officer as you are any day."—

"Here now. Can't we settle this thing pleasantly?"—

"He is within his rights, let him alone."—

"Come now husband, don't you get into this row. You have enough to do building the tunnel. It must be smooth and clean and narrow at the entrance and if you don't keep your mind on it you are sure to make a mistake."—

"Keep still wife. This is an affair that is best left to the males of the family."—

"Oh dear me! I feel so badly. I know I am going to be ill."

Bedlam broke loose in the tree, each one of the three trunk birds had an opinion of his or her own and gave it freely. Their voices were harsh and grating. When it seemed as if the rumpus was going to continue for some time the boy made up his mind that he had better leave them to themselves. He was tired of fights and besides it made his head ache to hear them. So off Peter walked as fast as he could and without waiting to find out what happened to Sapsucker.

"Those tree trunk birds are an intresting lot but noisy. I don't admire their voices a bit, do you? I don't believe that one of them can sing a song that any one would care to listen to. And whether you believe it or not in spite of the fact that Flicker takes to himself so much credit as the chief of police in that tree a great deal of his time is spent upon the ground. He eats ants, licks them up by the dozen. Whenever he comes upon an ant hill into it he thrusts that bill of his and catches them on his long sticky tongue as they rush out to see what the matter is. Disgusting I call it!"

This was quite a long speech and Peter startled, looked around to discover who was making it. He had walked quite a distance from the elm tree. There wasn't a soul in sight upon the stone wall nor on the fence rail.

— I AM GLAD MY TAIL FEATHERS ARE WHITE

"Certainly I am not too small for you to see" continued the chirping voice. "I am about as large as you are and I am right behind you on a mound of snow. You have been looking in the sky for me boy and I am on the ground."

Peter right-about turned and there sure enough by his side in the snow near enough for him to touch if he had reached out his hand stood a very syllish young chap. His coat was slate gray but he wore a vest that was as white as the snow itself and that was why Peter had not noticed him right away.

"I beg your pardon sir" apologized the boy. "But your vest is so white that if I did not stare at you even now I should hardly be able to tell you from the snow itself."

"Good! I am glad of that!" declared the bird. "It makes me feel safer than I did before. Sometimes I have a fear that my gray coat and my pink bill will give me away. I am glad my tail feathers are white too.

He flirted about and sure enough they were as spotless as his vest. Then back he faced again chirping to Peter. "You know who I am of course?"

When they have sore throat—

Make them gargle often

Don't ever underestimate the danger of a sore throat; if neglected, it may develop into something serious—as many know to their sorrow.

The same goes for a cold; pneumonia at this time of the year is your great enemy.

At the first sign of cold or throat irritation, use Listerine full strength as a gargle. Keep it up systematically.

Being antiseptic, it immediately attacks the countless disease-producing bacteria in mouth and throat, and halts many an ailment before it becomes dangerous.

During winter weather, when you are usually subjected to poor air and sharp changes in temperature, it's a good idea to use Listerine every day as mouth wash and gargle.

This pleasant and easy precaution may spare you a trying and painful siege of illness. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Coal Operators Deny Rumors Of General Strike

Pittsburgh Coal Company Officials Brand Shutdown Rumor False

UNION TO ANSWER NEWSPAPER AD.

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29.—The Pittsburgh Coal company let it be known today that it has no intention of closing down its mines on April 1, as rumored throughout the district while the senate coal investigating committee was here.

"The rumor is utterly false and ridiculous," said C. E. Lesher, executive manager. "The union pickets have been whispering this propaganda to our men in an effort to create unrest and suspicion, we have no intention of ceasing operations."

Meantime, the union, through John O'Leary, international board member, announced that it would make a reply to the full page advertisement inserted in all local newspapers by the Pittsburgh Coal company to present its case to the public. The reply will come from the international officers in Washington.

The coal company, the largest in the field, prefaced its announcement with the statement: "As the actions and pronouncements of the visiting senate committee seem to stamp it as a prejudicated body, we are taking this means of telling the essential facts because neither the committee nor the newspapers seem willing to present both sides of the question."

It went on to say that the company had a legal and moral right to break off relations with the United Mine Workers in 1925 under the Jacksonville wage agreement, which still had two years to run. The company also asserted that before renouncing the union it made every effort to have President John L. Lewis reduce the wage scale to a level it could meet and still compete with nearby non-union operations.

NEW YORK STATE SOLONS TO HEAR COL. LINDBERGH

only persons with official passes were to be admitted to the assembly chamber where Colonel Lindbergh was scheduled to address a joint session of the Senate and Assembly at two o'clock this afternoon.

Medal for Ruth

As soon as Colonel Lindbergh flies away to Boston tomorrow lawmakers will play host to Ruth Elder, intrepid aviatrix. Miss Elder will be decorated tomorrow afternoon in the Senate chamber with the Legion of Honor of Spain, if she has sufficiently recovered from the illness which has confined her in New York.

The medal was awarded to Miss Elder several months ago by King Alfonso of Spain, but it has never been formally presented.

Another hero of the air, Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland, trans-Atlantic flier, will address the lawmakers today. Others expected at the capitol included F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war; William P. McCracken, assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics; Edward P. Warner, assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aviation; Porter H. Adams, president of the National Aeronautical Association, and Mayor Charles G. Hanna of Syracuse, head of the state aviation conference.

Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland, hero of the trans-Pacific flight, piloting a plane carrying F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war, and Mayor Charles G. Hanna of Syracuse, arrived at the Albany landing field at 10:48 o'clock. They made the hop from Mitchell Field, L. I., in one hour and 13 minutes.

Just before the plane reached Albany it ran into a blind snowstorm and it was with some difficulty that Lieutenant Maitland was able to locate the flying field. Maitland circled over the capitol before landing.

Lindbergh on Flight

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., Feb. 29.—Piloting his Ryan monoplane, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh took off here at 10:12 this morning, with four of his business associates, for Albany to attend the aviation session of the state legislature.

The Lindbergh plane was preceded by a transport plane piloted by Lester Maitland and carrying Assistant Secretary of War for Aviation F. Trubee Davison and Mayor Charles G. Hanna of Syracuse, which took off at 9:45 from Mitchell Field.

All the fliers are to attend the Albany session, which is being held in the interest of aviation legislation, and which Colonel Lindbergh will address.

In taking off Lindy snapped off his tail skid, and probably damaged his rudder. Pilots here pointed out that he would have to land on his two wheels alone in Albany, instead of making a three-point landing, as is usual. The fliers here seemed confident, however, that Lindbergh would be able to accomplish the feat without danger, although they admitted the plane might suffer.

Lands Safely

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 29.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, who hopped off from Curtiss Field at 10:12 o'clock for Albany, where he is to speak this afternoon on aviation measures before the New York state legislature, landed at the local flying field at 11:53 o'clock.

His arrival here was entirely unexpected. It is believed he chose the local landing field so as to avoid a crowd of several hundred persons who were waiting for him at the Albany field.

Dorothy Mackaye Resigned To Fate, Will Serve Term

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29.—"It matters little now."

That was the resigned response today of Dorothy Mackaye, former stage actress, to Governor C. C. Young's decision not to intervene in her struggle to escape a term of from one to three years at San Quentin state penitentiary.

The former footlight performer, sentenced to the prison term for concealing circumstances surrounding the death of her husband, Ray Raymond, musical comedy star, will probably be transferred to San Quentin today.

She has been confined for the past six months in the county jail. Paul Kelly, former motion picture actor, is now serving a term of from one to ten years at San Quentin for manslaughter growing out of the death of Raymond. Kelly and Raymond engaged in a fight over the affections of Miss Mackaye, which resulted in Raymond's death.

Stewart Will Be Re-elected Head Of Standard Oil

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—Colonel Robert W. Stewart, one of the central figures in the United States oil investigation, who defied the request of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to "tell all" to the senate, will be re-elected chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana at the meeting tomorrow, it was learned today by International News Service.

A large majority of the members of the board, in fact, almost a unanimous vote will place Col. Stewart back in the chairman's seat despite the fact that he is viewed with displeasure by Rockefeller, it was learned.

Don't Wear Out Body Exercising, Cultivate Rhythm, Is Counsel

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN
Internationally Noted Authority on Cultivation and Preservation of Beauty.

All things beautiful are rythmic. The rhythm of life is beauty, and nowhere can it find such beautiful expression as in the human body. The ancient Greeks attained their physical perfection through cultivating, almost from infancy, the muscular coordination which developed slim, lithe and beautiful bodies.

Exercise must do more than jerk the body, over-develop leg and arm muscles and teach unfeminine sharpness of movement. "Physical torture," as my girls insist on calling it, is too apt to neglect the cultivation of actual beauty.

In exercising for health and beauty, forget the 1-2-3-4 commands. Forget the precision of a military drill, and remember that you do not wish to develop the stiff erectness of a top sergeant, but the soft curves of appealing womanhood. Bury your military march records, and shut off the stiff, machine-gun-like exercise directions on the radio, and exercise to the most beautiful musical selections you can find.

Let the rhythm of harmony teach your body the rhythm of physical repose—of self forgetfulness—of exquisite pose. Let the rhythm of life develop the beauty of your body and the beauty of your soul. It will, you know.

There are right and WRONG ways to exercise and my next articles will be devoted to telling women, young and old, how to cultivate and preserve beauty in restful, rhythmic ways, instead of in the much advocated strenuous, tiring, military exercises, which waste the body while endeavoring to restore it.

One of the rhythmic exercises prescribed by Ivan Mordkin, famous dancer.

Do the exercise in loose clothing, to the most beautiful musical selections you can find. But don't overdo it. Remember that you want to preserve the body and cultivate soft, feminine curves, not torture your muscles.

Support the hips with your hands and move the legs slowly—back and forward, and to right and left, in time with the music.

PRESENTS PETITION IN EJECTMENT CASE

Petition of Attorney Walter W. Braham, that the Cleveland Trust company, executor of the will of Antonio Doyno, deceased, be made a party in the action in ejectment brought by Nick Frasso against Antonio Doyno, Joseph Papilli and H. P. Tustin, because of the fact that Doyno, one of the defendants is deceased, and the Elevated Trust company is interested by reason of being executor in the estate of Doyno, was presented in Lawrence county court this morning. The court issued an order of Sciere Facias directing that the Cleveland Trust company be notified to appear in the local court within twenty days and show cause why it should not be made a party in the ejectment proceeding already mentioned.

Train Derailed, Plunges Through Door, No One Hurt

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29. — The engine crew of a Pennsylvania railroad freight train escaped injury early today when the engine struck an open switch and then ploughed through heavy iron doors of a shop at the Cramp Shipbuilding yard in Richmond, a suburb.

John Frazier, the conductor, who lives in Bristol, was thrown from the top of one of the 30 cars and received a broken ankle.

Lewis Ferguson, Bristol, the engineer, said he was driving the train north on Richmond street when the engine swung to the right and jumped the other tracks. He tried to stop it, but the weight of the long train carried it across the street into the building.

ADJOURN COURT IN RESPECT TO MEMORY OF LATE JUDGE EMERY

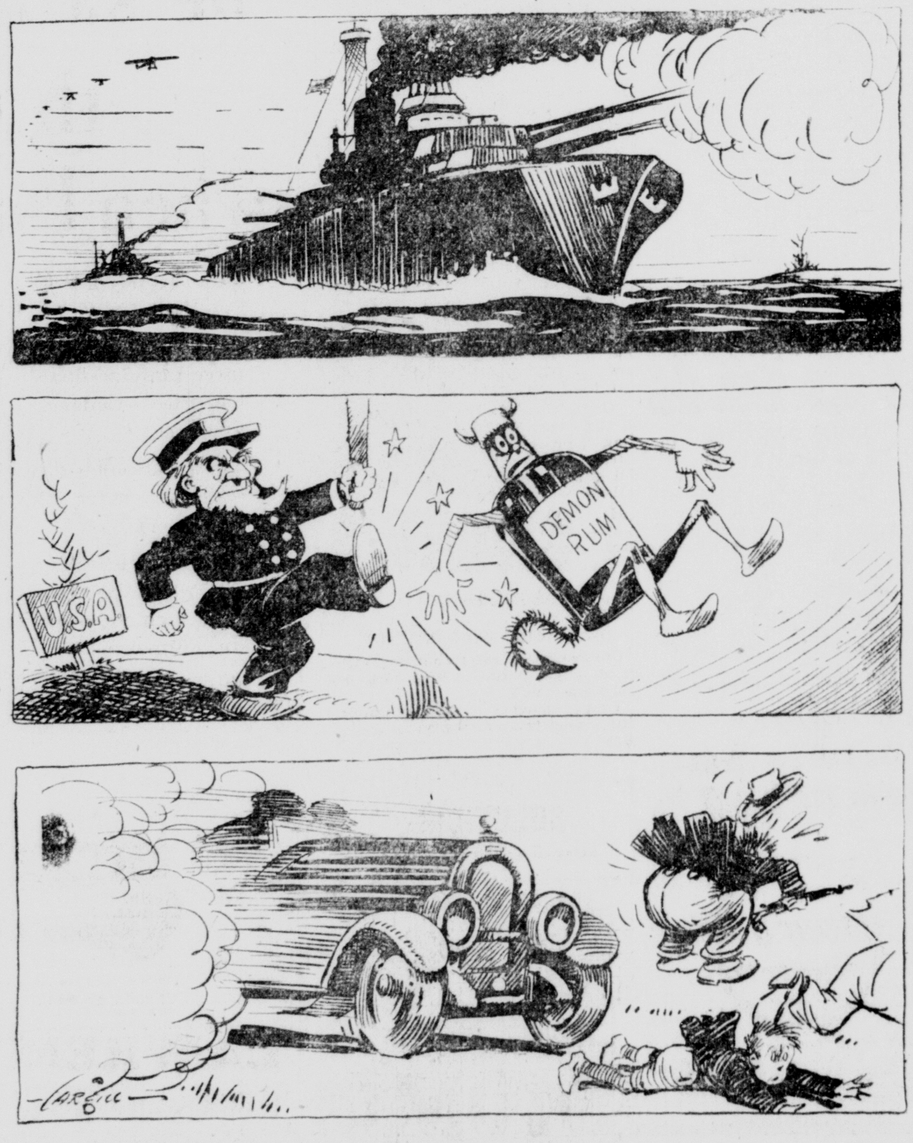
The Great Human Puzzle



An Open Letter to the Better Dressed Women of this Community

This open letter is addressed primarily to our legion of patrons, our first obligation is to them, because they have made possible the rapid growth and success of the Jiles shoppe; to continue to enjoy their patronage and widen our circle of friends, we must prove worthy of their allegiance.

To that end, we have formed plans which we believe will meet the approval of both our own patrons (whose confidence we have meritoriously earned) as well as those women who have heard of our shoppe but have been timid about coming in, due primarily to the "high priced appearance" that our apparel seems to convey, and to the well appointed interior which adds to the pleasure of shopping.

This Season we are featuring two price groups in dresses, which experience taught us are most popular here, they are: $25.00 and $35.00. Each frock and costume will represent the utmost in quality, tailoring, and finish, replicas of the original creations of the Parisian courtiers as well as our own designers of the U. S. A., selected with the same care for those distinctive touches, that has endeared the Jiles Shoppe wherever smartly dressed women foregather.

It is not within our gifts to "word-paint" a true picture of the rare beauty of color and artistry of styling that these dresses possess, nor can we adequately convey the quality that is in them at the above prices, all we can say is—"Come and see them for yourself," after all, it is your judgment that must first be convinced.

On your next shopping tour for that "hard-to-find" Spring costume, make it a point to visit The Jiles Shoppe, we will be glad to show you what will add to your personality without making you fell obligated for doing so.

Sincerely yours,

The Jiles Shoppe

"Electricity!---

The Power of the Republic"

Says WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE
Author and editor Emporia Gazette

"The democracy that really counts has come as a result of industrial and economic forces by giving men and women better wages, shorter hours and more self-respecting conditions of labor. The worker, growing up in these conditions of self-respect, no longer is willing to drudge. Hence the demand for electric power."

SUPPLYING electric light and power to the nation is not merely a business.

It is a public service that forever frees men from the tyranny of excessive burden; that spells the difference between less toil and more comfort; less confinement and more leisure; less poverty and more wealth. It is the measure of human prosperity and happiness.

Every time electrical service is extended, every time there is a new labor-saving device introduced in the home or in the factory, labor is made more useful and productive, the individual is released for those pursuits which make for better government, and civilization is broadened and strengthened.

The production of electric energy in the United States has doubled every five years since Edison invented the electric bulb. There is now generated in this country more electric power than is produced throughout all the rest of the world. If apportioned among all the workers in the U. S., it would give each worker the equivalent of 40 helpers.

Such wide-spread distribution of this vital force has been made possible through the splendid zeal of the electric power companies of this country. It presents unmistakable evidence of the efficiency of the American principle of individual initiative in the development and operation of the electrical facilities of this country. The continuance of this principle is essential to maintain progress.

Physical Exercise Needed Declares Dr. T. B. Appel

"This is a shock-absorber age," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, today. "We ride on rubber tires, walk on rubber heels and rest on over-stuffed furniture. The main idea in recent years has been to make things physically easy. Luxury and comfort, however pleasant, are not necessarily synonymous with vitality and long life.

"Food habits, for example, have been ultra-refined. We hear much concerning 'soft' foods. And while criticism is usually directed toward their effect upon the teeth, there is also the important question of the habitually sluggish intestinal tract to be considered.

"If people better understood the inside workings of their bodies, perhaps they would develop a more sympathetic attitude toward them. Instead, they blindly follow the lines of least resistance, do as little physical work as possible, eat fancy foods in overabundance—and then trust in laxatives to accomplish artificially what exercise and proper foods should accomplish naturally.

"Laxative fiend is a strong term, but not too strong for many. Pills are their constant resort. Injurious eating and laziness their rules.

"There are two important things to remember with reference to a sluggish colon. First, your body is likely not getting a sufficient amount of physical exertion. It is built on the principle that sawing wood, washing clothes and otherwise exercising muscles are the natural and healthful things to do. Are you doing anything that compares to such an expenditure of energy daily? If not, no wonder sluggishness exists. Second, roughage is absolutely required, that is to say, greens, cereals and other foods that possess an 'ash'. They act as brushes and keep the digestive process in natural motion. If your food is all soft, no wonder again if you have headaches and retarded action.

"In any event if you are a sufferer rely on your doctor, not on pills, for results. Follow his advice strictly, even if it involves sacrifice and some actual physical work. It can conceivably add years to your life."

SCHOOL BOMBING WAS PREMEDITATED ASSERT WITNESSES ON STAND

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 29.—Hiram Reed, farmer's son, not only planted the dynamite in the Pleasant Valley school stove which exploded and seriously injured his sweetheart, Miss Iola Bradford, but he had planned the bombing for two months prior to the blast, witnesses in the La Salle county court told Judge Frank Hayes Tuesday.

The statements, considered the most damaging against Reed yet produced by the state, were told to a courtroom from which the jurors had been excluded.

Share Honors In Play Role

ELMER WILLIAMS

CHARLES KNOBLOCH

Tommy Jordan shows rather a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde personality in the play "The Tightwad" at the Senior High school auditorium March 1 and 2.

In the first of the play he is the most generous soul in the world. He takes great delight in sending five-pound boxes of candy and American Beauty roses to his best girl; he calls a taxicab to travel a very short distance. Can you imagine one who has such tendencies developing into a saving individual, who pinches a dollar until the eagle squeals before he will part with it? Tommy develops many other saving ways almost unknown to modern youth. The interpretation of this character by Elmer Williams and Charles Knobloch is so good that Miss Hartsuff has decided to divide the honors and let one young man play each night.

Mrs. Coogan Denies Charges In Suit

Declares She Will Combat Charges Made By Mrs. "Jane" Bernstein

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 29.—Emphatic denial of the charges in two sensational suits, filed by Mrs. Corabel "Jane" Bernstein, was voiced today by Mrs. Lillian Coogan, mother of Jackie Coogan.

Both parties to the double legal action, involving $750,000 in damages, $10,000 in attorney's fees and $1,000 monthly alimony, declared that they will consider no settlement out of court, but will use every legal weapon at their command to fight Mrs. Bernstein's charges.

"Here's one bunch of motion picture people that is not going to be made to pay a lot of money just because somebody thinks they will not be able to stand the spotlight," Mrs. Coogan, who is accused by Mrs. Bernstein of indiscreet friendliness toward her husband, declared.

Mrs. Bernstein asks $750,000 damages in an alienation of affection suit against Mrs. Coogan.

Bernstein, who is being sued for divorce, is charged in his wife's complaint with having kept three trysts with Mrs. Coogan, the first when the company was on location, the second on a train between Chicago and New York, and the third in New York.

The two suits have necessitated suspension of a huge film deal that would have taken the Coogans and Bernstein on a trip to Europe. The entire production schedule of the company has been tied up.

Calling A Preacher Theme Of Message

Able Sermon At Opening Night Of Revival In Central Christion Church

The initial service of the special series of evangelistic meetings began last night under very favorable auspices at the Central Christian church, with W. Graham Walker of Lexington, Ky., leading.

After a rousing song service, led by William Richards, music director, and Roy Stroble at the piano, and the disposal of the preliminaries, Jesse B. Porter, the pastor, introduced the evangelist, who spoke very briefly in a number of introductory remarks his compliments of the privilege accorded him to labor with the Central church, after which he preached a very outstanding and impressive sermon on the subject of "Calling a Preacher", using the incident recorded in the tenth chapter of Acts when Cornelius sent for Peter to come and tell him of the things the Lord had commanded him. He said that some preachers were called because they were good-looking, others for their powerful eloquence, and others because they were learned. Are these sufficient motives? Many preachers have been made great by their listeners and some have been made failures. In his closing remarks he urged a full pew necessary to get the preacher to preach his best sermons.

Tonight the evangelist will preach on the subject, "The Other Man's Religion". Services begin promptly at 7:30.

Mercer County Man Files Naval Patent

Gives Device For Entrapped Submarine Crews To Government

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 29.—D. B. Robins of Fredonia, already credited with 11 inventions has just filed his twelfth with Secretary of the Navy Wilbur at Washington.

This last mechanical creation of the aged hardware merchant is calculated to render assistance to entrapped submarine crews and can be put in operation ten minutes after the divers arrive at the boat location.

Food, air and water can be supplied the crew until they can be rescued is the claim of Robins for his device which has been presented to the United States government free of charge.

The only recompense asked by Robins is the fair trial and application of his invention as a medium of saving lives.

The invention was presented through the congressman of the district, T. C. Cochran.

Robins is 74 years of age. He has been in business at Fredonia for 50 years; recently celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary; has not missed a session at Chautauqua for 50 years; has been a Sunday School teacher for 50 years and a member of the Masonic Lodge for that period of time.

Robins, during his life time, has been responsible for the saving of the lives of seven people four of whom are living.

SWEET STOMACHS

Hearty Eaters—Hard Smokers—High Livers Here's a Boon and a Blessing for All!

Age has little or nothing to do with digestion! If the stomach has sufficient alkaline, all is serene—after the heartiest meal—even when folks eat with more zest than discretion.

Do you realize that after-eating distress, and the sour risings and bad breath that goes with it, can be banished in one minute?

For many years you have heard of Stuart's Tablets. You may have looked on them as "medicine." But they are only sweeteners of the system, quite as harmless as they taste, and very good for anybody's stomach. Take one now and then—before meals or after—whenever you feel the need.

What a convenient and delightful means of avoiding indigestion! A Stuart tablet is utterly harmless, and practically tasteless; it may be taken with a swallow of water, or just taken in the mouth and chewed-up. Perfect ease and comfort follow this simple and sensible precaution.

Stuart's tablets contain only what is thoroughly good for you; a happy combination of Calcium Carbonate, Magnesia and other soothing things which promote alkalinity and a serene condition of the stomach.

FULL BOX FREE

Every druggist has Stuart's; the 25c size fits the pocket. Or, one full box to prove how good they are for anybody, absolutely free; use the coupon. Pocket tin 25c, large size 60c, family size $1.20. Sold everywhere.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

NERVOUS PEOPLE ARE HALF FED

When you know you have nerves, something is wrong. A well nourished, healthy body should never even know that nerves exist, except for the sensation of feeling. But when your nerves jangle, when you jump at noises, or when you cannot sleep, it is Nature's way of calling for help.

Crying For Food

And it is almost always a safe bet that your nerves are crying for proper food. Your body is not supplying what is needed for the harmony of health. Chances are that the catarrh you have noticed in nose and throat has spread to the stomach. Then, no matter how much you eat, your system does not get the right nourishment. How can it, with the lining of your stomach inflamed and congested?

Because your muscles demand it the nerves are put on half rations. They let you know it, too. What you need then is to get rid of the catarrh. Thousands have done that with World's Tonic. Not only is it recommended for catarrh, but it tones up the digestion, restores the balance in all processes, and builds you up. When that is done, you can forget you have nerves.

World's Tonic is sold by Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all other good druggists. (213)

THE NEWS, BY MAIL, ONE YEAR $5.00

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—The hangers-on in the lobby of a hotel in the Times Square district were considerably startled the other day by the sight of a lady clad in Greek robes, her hair in thick plaits, her feet guiltless of stockings, but thrust naively into sandals. (It was a cold day, too.) Mme. Eva Sikelianos, a Greek by marriage and adoption only, is in New York laying plans for the foundation of a "spiritual university" with headquarters at Delphi, her home town. Naturally, all the crass lobby loungers couldn't know about this, and some of them stared and snickered rudely.

It has always seemed to me that I would have to wear a very queer getup, in deed, to attract attention in an indifferent New York crowd. One of my proudest contentions about the city was that it was possible to dress like a freak and march the streets without stirring up any excitement, or drawing a crowd. I have seen the oddest sort of coots in Fifth avenue during the daytime, and they have not, usually, attracted even a passing smile.

But, of course, when a lady allows her hair to grow to great length, as Mme. Sikelianos has, and further, permits it to wave in the breeze, without restraint of net or hairpins, I suppose she must expect to have her appearance commented upon. Still, I have seen funnier sights. For instance, the average pint-size undergraduate struggling manfully with a coon coat, made for a man 50 pounds heavier and many inches taller. Or a strawberry blonde, who hasn't quite decided whether to go back to her born-brunette state. Or a fellow whose sojourn in England has given him an idea that to wear a monocle sets him singularly apart from his fellow men. Somehow these quaint characters never cause any excitement in cosmopolitan New York.

The announcement, recently, that the project of building a new opera house uptown, to replace the Metropolitan, had been at length abandoned, came as a disappointment to those who watch the march of progress with satisfaction. It pleased the old-line diehards, and especially the entrenched golden horseshoe boxholders, who had been angrily affronted by Mr. Kahn's generous suggestion that these boxes be put on general sale two nights a week. The notion seems to me a perfectly sensible one, but gossip has it that Otto Kahn's proposal to this effect had as much to do with the scrapping of the new opera house idea as the discovery that the building would cost too much. The golden horseshoe crowd resents fiercely any hint of intrusion upon its sacred privacy.

Just when the city fathers were congratulating each other on the bland winter, which had, they said, saved some two millions of dollars which might have been shelled out for street cleaning, a vindictive snowstorm came along and knocked the savings budget silly. It just goes to prove what I've always said: it's safest to knock wood before bragging.

* * *

I wonder why it is that a good, solid, unsentimental newspaper story is seldom written. Most of the city-room fiction is bright with "sob sisters" who have, by the way, gone quite out of fashion; with brisk and daring young men who tell the chief of detectives where to get off, and similar characters of unreality. The average newspaper office is a dusty cavern, noisier than a boiler factory in the heat of the day, and quite as unromantic. And yet short story writers continue to grind out soppy thrillers, which cause the journalism classes at Columbia to increase with startling rapidity.

KONJOLA ENDED PAINFUL ATTACKS OF INDIGESTION

This Man Says The New Compound Banished Years Of Stomach Trouble

Wherever introduced, Konjola has proven to be the latest advanced remedy for the common disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. This new medical compound is being explained to large crowds daily by the Konjola Man at Love & Megown drug store, 204 E. Washington St., and at the same time, reports are being received from other larger cities where Konjola is better known. For instance, Mr. William Armes, 3239 Loveland Road, Youngstown, Ohio, made the following statement:

MR. WILLIAM ARMES

"I want to tell you that Konjola has delivered me from several years of stomach trouble," said Mr. Armes, "and this medicine has improved my system in general.

"I would have painful attacks of indigestion after every meal I ate. There was a jumpy feeling in my stomach, followed by gas bloating and shortness of breath. I was often subject to dizzy spells, and would lie half awake at night, due to indigestion.

"I found out about Konjola, and this medicine proved to be exactly what I had always needed. I continued the full treatment and now my stomach is perfect. I never have indigestion pains, and my food always agrees with me. The heavy feeling in my stomach is gone and I never become short of breath or have dizzy spells. My appetite is increased and I can sleep well 8 hours a night without waking up once. I always feel good in the mornings.

"Konjola has benefited me in so many ways that I strongly indorse such a medicine to others who need it."

The Konjola Man is at Love & Megown drug store, 204 E. Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Two Allentown Youths Injured In Train Wreck

Stealing Ride On Derailed Freight May Cost Two Youths Their Lives

(International News Service)

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 29.—Two Allentown youths, stealing a ride on a Reading Railway freight train, were injured probably fatally when the train was wrecked near Emaus, six miles west of here during the night. The youths were imprisoned under the tangled mass of wreckage until early today before rescue crews could extricate them.

They are: Joseph Horvath, 17, and Franklin Shandon, 19, both of Allentown.

Horvath's legs were crushed and will have to be amputated if he lives physicians say.

The 45-car train on the Perkiomen Branch was bound from Philadelphia to Allentown when a broken brake beam caused ten of the cars to pile up.

Damage to the ten cars will amount to thousands of dollars.

POLICE ARREST EIGHT IN SEVENTH WARD STORE

Mike Panella, 103 South Liberty street, alleged proprietor, and seven visitors were taken into custody last night under the provisions of an ordinance which prohibits gambling.

It is reported by Police Lieutenant Hillers, County Detective Fleming and Policewoman McKibben that when they arrived at the store seven were at a table and the police seized 50 cents.

Panella was held on a charge of keeping a disorderly house and the visitors charged with being visitors. Panella posted a $25 forfeit and the visitors $10 each.

Several Prisoners Given Sentences

Session Of Court Held By Judges Chambers And Hildebrand This Morning

A session of sentence court presided over by Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers, was held this morning in a number of cases were pleas had been entered.

Joe Felba, charged with possessing liquor was given the heaviest sentence of any who appeared before the presiding judges today. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and the costs and to undergo imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse for a period of two years and six months. It was his third offense on similar charges and the heavy sentence was in recognition of these facts.

Domenico DeFonso, charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods, was sentenced to Huntingdon Reformatory.

Jack Abbaticchio, charged with the larceny of an automobile and Clyde Lloyd, charged with being an accessory before the fact in the theft of the car, were paroled. They reside in Ellwood City.

Walter Carrouthers, charged with breaking and entering, was also paroled.

Harry Coates, brought in on a process for failure to live up to the provisions of an order of court, which required him to support a minor child, was released upon payment of the costs of the process and pending a hearing in the case on Friday, March 9.

William E. Thomas, also brought in on a process for failure to support his minor children, was remanded to the county jail to await a hearing Friday, March 9.

A rather unusual situation was developed when Herschel Stewart was brought into court and it was announced that he had been in jail for thirty-five or forty days on a charge of fornication, that no hearing had been held and that he was willing to do anything to get the matter settled up. As there was nothing on which the court could act, Stewart was sent back to jail and the matter referred to Alderman J. Lee Cooper, the committing magistrate, for immediate action.

Navy's Plan For Big Dirigibles Will Be Bucked

Official Indifference In House Likely To Block Development Plans

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Despite the Los Angeles' record-smashing flight to Panama, official indifference in the House today threatened defeats to the navy's plans for developing huge dirigibles as a part of the national defense.

A preparedness bloc in Congress, will fight for an $8,000,000 in the pending naval supply bill for immediate construction of two new navy dirigibles, larger than any now in use. The money was authorized two years ago but work has not been started because the House failed to appropriate the necessary funds, even though the Senate favored such action.

Two significant trends in aeronautics will feature the dirigible battle. First, the move of military strategists to transfer all control over dirigible activities to the Navy department, and second, the abandonment of semi-rigid "blimps," such as the army pow uses, in favor of the great rigid dirigibles. These developments were due to the frequent successes of the Los Angeles on military mission and a decision, among experts, that the small "blimps" had little or no military value.

Garage Man Is Held Up And Robbed

Robbery Occurs In Diamond Garage; Car Is Taken As Well As Money

Two stickup men robbed and tied up W. L. Emery, employe of the Diamond garage, Monday night, police reported today. During yesterday police sought the bandits who apparently have escaped.

Emery told police they entered the garage, put a revolver against his back, forced him to hold up his hands after which they robbed and tied him up.

They got three dollars in cash, a seven jewel Elgin watch but where chivalrous enough to leave him 10 cents for breakfast when he asked them to leave him breakfast money.

They then stole an Oldsmobile coupe, Ohio license number 94239 belonging to Charles Kline of Canton. The car contained a grey sweater, umbrella and box of aluminum umbrellas and trays.

One bandit wore a brown suit and overcoat and cap. The second wore a light overcoat and cap.

Gallstones Kill Millions Annually

According to eminent medical authorities, Gallstones exact even a greater toll of lives than modern warfare. It is estimated that every year millions of people die directly or indirectly from Gallstones or kindred ailments. An old German doctor, Dr. Hildebrand, devoted years in an effort to find a Gallstone cure. His efforts were spured on by the fact that he was a sufferer himself. After numerous experiments he at last found a teratment that cured him of his Gallstones. The old doctor then prescribed this treatment to other sufferers. The amazing results they report is convincing evidence of the merit of his treatment. For a limited time through the Dr. Hildebrand Laboratories, Dept. 2035, 155 N. Union Ave., Chicago, Ill., sufferers everywhere may obtain a test of this marvelous treatment free. Anyone troubled with Gallstones, Liver or Stomach ailments should send their name at once.—Adv.

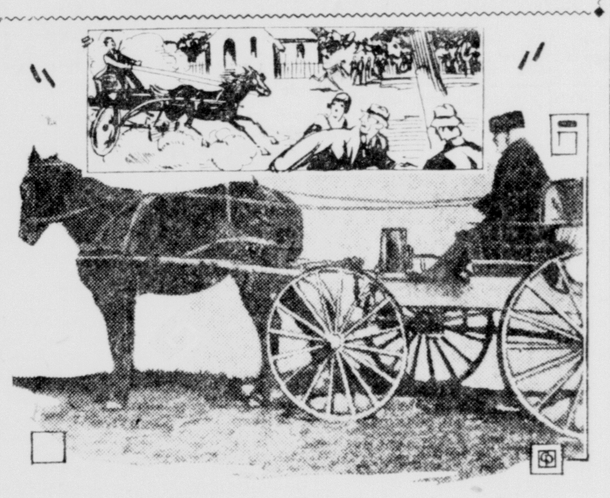
Veteran Horse Passes Thirty-Third Birthday With Spirit Of Colt; Once A Track Star



KINSEY B. IN THE HARNESS

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

SANDY LAKE, Pa., Feb. 29.—Tell the average horse that he'll live to be 33 and he'll not believe you. Tell him also that he'll be as fresh and lively as a young colt at that age and he'll probably give you the horse laugh.

For it simply isn't being done—in the best horse families, anyway. Long before that age, he'd tell you, if he could talk, he would be happy to retire to the meadow with his memories—a fast race won, or the thrill of the water jump.

But not so with Kinsey B., who is a standard bred, registered stallion, owned by W. H. Reagle, in Mercer county, near Sandy Lake.

Still Willing at 33

Nearly 33 years of living have not dimmed the spirit, or lessened the willingness of this fellow—and he has packed every one of 'em full of good horse experience.

Kinsey B. is full of the fire of youth, and only regrets the lack of sufficient opportunity to prove it.

But he had his chance the other day, when his master offered to lend him to the Rev. H. J. Rose, a superintendent of missions, who found it necessary to visit two country charges, several miles apart, on a Sunday.

So Kinsey B. was put into the harness. He has always been a proud horse—perhaps it's a heritage of his race track and fair days—and at the sight of a group of people his spirits always rise.

Forgot His Dignity

When the first charge was sighted, with the waiting congregation in the yard, things started to happen, and instead of coming into the church yard in a dignified, Sabbath manner, the Rev. Rose came bouncing in like a boy who has been seeing too many wild west shows. The performance was repeated at the second charge.

Kinsey B. was born in June, 1895, on a farm near that of his present owner. He developed speed and was placed on the track, bringing in many first prizes for his various owners.

Now in Lumber Business

At the close of his track career he changed hands many times before entering the service of Reagle, who has used him in his lumber business.

The old veteran never allows another horse to beat him to a cross roads and, because of this feeling of superiority, has often given his driver a faster ride than he cared for.

"Kinsey B. is not for sale at any price," his owner declares. "Even at his age he is the most supple horse in the barn."

Mahoning Valley Grange Meeting

Regular meeting of the Mahoning Valley Grange was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, with a very large attendance. After the business meeting a program was held under the direction of H. H. Sherard.

The program of the evening consisted of reading, piano solos, a discussion on the subject, "How the Purchasing Department of the Grange Can Be Made More Helpful to the Farmer."

The Grange will hold a leap year social at the Grange hall on Friday evening, March 2.

George Wortman of the New Bedford Grange attended the Grange meeting last evening.

The men of the Grange will entertain the ladies of the Grange at an oyster supper Tuesday evening, March 6.

Dope Fiends Are Increasing, Shown By Recent Survey

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Turning to a new campaign to stop narcotic smuggling, Treasury Department officials declared today that unless illegal importation of opium, morphine and cocaine into the United States can be checked it will be impossible to wipe out the drug habit.

Col. L. G. Nutt, head of the narcotic unit, said that a survey by the U. S. public health service disclosed 100,000 drug addicts in this country, who annually are consuming about 420,000 ounces of habit-forming dopes.

"Preset facilities with respect to the number of narcotic agents and funds for enforcement purposes are limited," Nutt said. "If enforcement officials are provided with sufficient facilities the smuggling problem can be solved eventually; if not, the best that can be hoped is to prevent the spread of illegal traffic by pursuing present methods."

Today's luncheon of the Kiwanis club held in the Elks' Home on North Mill street, was given over to a demonstration and explanation of the voting machine by Roy Gustafson, a representative of the company manufacturing the machines.

The talk and demonstration was a timely one, the next general election being the time when the citizens of Pennsylvania will vote upon whether or not they should be used in this state. Following Mr. Gustafson's talk many questions were asked by members of the club.

Woman 96 Celebrates Her 23rd Birthday

(International News Service)

CHHICAGO, Feb. 29—Her 12 grandchildren today helped Mrs. Caroline Zigahn to celebrate her 23rd birthday. She is in reality 96 years old, but having been born on this odd day that comes once every four years, she has had but 23 birthdays. Since 1900 was not a leap year, Mrs. Zigahn and others sharing her birthday had to go eight years without a nativity celebration.

They are expected back the last of the present week.

SEEK TO PURCHASE SPOT WHERE BOVINE STARTED BIG FIRE

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—The city of Chicago offered $35,000 for the property on Dekoven street where Mrs. O'Leary's famous cow kicked over the lantern that started the historic Chicago fire of 1871. If acquired, the property will be used for the site of a memorial fire house.

COLONEL SMATHERS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

(International News Service)

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., Feb. 29.—Col. Blained Smathers, superintendent of the Scotland Orphans Industrial school, who is in a local hospital after an operation for appendicitis, today was slightly improved, physicians said.

Col. Smathers is not yet out of danger, however, his attendants said.

Sees Great Success For Celebration Of St. David's Day Here

By WILLIAM A. JOHNS, BRYTHON

The Welsh people are like those of other nations such as the English, Scotch, Irish and Americans in regard to their traditions, customs and ceremonies.

When the Welsh forefathers came to the United States they brought with them the best things they had in the old country and one of these good customs was the holding of St. David's Day in the first week of March of each year.

When some of those good old saints landed in this country from their little boat, that historical boat, the Mayflower, the first thing they did was to organize a St. David's society. It was in turn organized in each town and village all over the new land.

So the Welsh people in the different cities such as Philadelphia, New York, Scranton and Chicago can go back in their history for over a hundred years, when the St. David's celebration was held with great success and from that day down to the present time these celebrations have been held each year.

The Welsh people of this city have the record of holding the celebrations for the last 40 years and very successful events in each instance. This year the event will be a record-breaking affair, according to the reports coming from the members of the Women's Welsh club. The tickets have been disposed of in an unusually short space of time.

The interest being manifested is due to the fact that James J. Davis, a member of the president's cabinet, will be present and make the principal address.

The guest of honor will bring with him the gospel of truth concerning the good condition and standing of the Welsh people throughout the world.

Another good feature of the affair will be the singing of The Castleton quartet, while another feature will be the prominent part that Bart Richards will take. He will fill the position of toastmaster.

There will be people present from many districts, just for the purpose of getting a glimpse of the secretary and this will have much to do with the success that the event gives promise of being.

IRISH STATESMAN LANDS IN NEW YORK

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb., 29.—For the first time in years New York has as a visitor a European notable who hasn't any opinions to unload on prohibition, flappers, foreign politics and the war debt.

He is T. P. (Tay Vay) O'Connor, known as the "father of the House of Commons."

In his eightieth year, the venerable statesman, who is also president of the British Board of Censors, made the voyage here for the sake of his health. He suffers from rheumatism. A private physician and a nurse accompanied him.

THEATRE ACTIVITIES CAUSE SEPARATION

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Because her acting in the theatre took up most of her time, according to her husband, Josephine Hutchinson, star in the Civic Repertory Theatre, and Robert W. Bell, leader in the Little Theatre movement, have separated. The rift was confirmed Tuesday by both Miss Hutchinson, formerly leading lady in one of her husband's Little Theatre groups, and by Bell, scion of one of the wealthiest families in Washington, D. C.

New Companionate Marriage Idea Is Now Upon Market

(International News Service)

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 29.—A new twist was added today to companionate marriage by Mildred Hunsicker, 19, wealthy Norristown milliner, and Josiah Bougher, 24, Jeffersonville constable.

The pretty auburn-haired business woman will retain her own name and will live separately until children result from the union. Then—and only then—she explained, will she assume her title of Mrs. Bougher.

The marriage will be a 5-year trial union and the couple were wed in Baltimore by the Rev. L. T. Way in the usual way about three weeks ago after a whirlwind two-week courtship, the bride revealed today.

Topic for the Week
"RELIGION AND HEALTH"
Wednesday
"The Spirit of Thanksgiving"

SCRIPTURE: Memory verse: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not his benefits" (Psalm 103:2).

Read: Psalm 103:1-11.

MEDITATION: The spirit of thanksgiving is part of the religion of healthy-mindedness. One of the greatest causes of unrest and low spiritual vitality is the desire for things that we do not possess. The longing to keep up with others or to surpass them is a part of the spirit of our day. It is responsible for much inner and outer breakdown. One way to cast out this evil spirit is through a grateful review of all our blessings. The spirit of thanksgiving magnifies what we have and minimizes what we lack. No person who thankfully reflects on what he has can ever become a victim of self-pity. Dr. Lyman Abbott once wrote that in hours of insomnia he used to resort to counting his blessings. Long before he reached the end he fell asleep.

PRAYER: Almighty God, our Father, from whom cometh every good and perfect gift, we recall Thy loving-kindness and tender mercies, which have been ever of old. We lift up our hearts in thanksgiving for the wealth of Thy gifts. "What shall we render unto the Lord for all his benefits?" Amen.

GENERAL PRAYER IN CHICAGO MARCH 7, IS PLAN NOW UNDER WAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—Bold, bad Chicago is to have a day of general prayer, on which Divine assistance will be asked to lead the city out of the "wilderness of crime."

Wednesday, March 7, has been set aside as the day. Plans for general observance by citizens of all races and creeds are being worked out by the Union Ministers' Association, originator of the idea.

MEDAL OF HONOR FOR CONGRESSMAN PROPOSED TUESDAY

(International News Service)

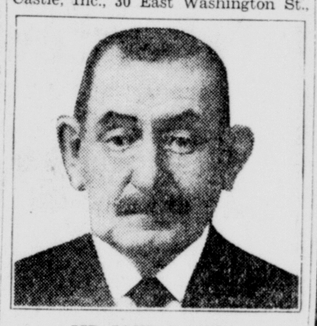
WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—A bill to award the Congressional Medal of Honor to Rep. Ralph Updike (R) of Indiana for heroic services at Belleau Woods was introduced in the House Tuesday by Rep. Reece (R) of Tennessee.

Updike was a sergeant of marines during the war.

Suffered With Rheumatism The Past 25 Years

Ten Herbs Gave Satisfactory Relief; Ended Stomach, Liver And Bowel Disorders.

"I suffered with rheumatism the past 25 years," was the statement of Mr. John C. Lehr, 20 East Walnut Street, Lancaster, Pa., to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington St.,



MR. JOHN C. LEHR

New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs. "Most of my trouble was in my legs and feet, which made it hard for me to walk," continued Mr. Lehr, who has lived in Lancaster 15 years, and was a harnessmaker for 30 years. "Pains surged through my whole body, and I could not rest well at night.

"My stomach gave me a lot of trouble. After eating, food would sour, and I belched a hot, sour liquid. My stomach would burn, and I suffered with gas pains. My liver was sluggish. I had dizzy spells, and usually had a worn-out feeling. My kidneys were out of order, it seemed. My ankles would swell, and I had to arise often at night. I was bothered with constipation, and was very weak.

"After reading in the paper statements of persons who had been helped by Ten Herbs, I began using your medicine. After taking several bottles, the results were surprising. I am well pleased with what it did for my rheumatism. Although not entirely well, I can take long walks with ease, and seldom have any pains in my limbs. I am not troubled with indigestion any more. My liver is in good condition, and I am free of dizzy spells. My bowels are regular. I sleep fine, and arise in the morning feeling strong and vigorous in every way, although I am 72 years old. I am glad to recommend Ten Herbs, as it did wonders in correcting my disorders."

Profit by the experience of others in your community who say Ten Herbs gave surprising results in relieving stomach, liver and bowel trouble. It also benefits the kidneys, and has a cleansing, soothing, correcting effect on the entire system.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it and get the best results. Free sample given.

Zionists Organize New Castle Church

Plan Membership Drive In Future; Officers Are Elected

A preliminary meeting for the purpose of organizing a Zionist church in New Castle took place Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kline, 406 East Wallace avenue.

Following are the officers who were elected at this time: President, Hyman Frank; first vice president, Ben Kline; second vice president, L. Ruzewich; secretary, N. J. Love; treasurer, Harry Klivans; financial secretary, Gus Slavonsky.

It is planned to hold a big membership drive in the near future and to have a national speaker at New Castle. Mrs. A. H. Vixman of Pittsburgh, assisted in the organization.

DOROTHY MACKAYE REFUSED CLEMENCY

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 29 — An Appeal for clemency for Dorothy Mackaye, actress, failed Tuesday when Governor C. C. Young refused to have a jail sentence substituted for a prison sentence.

The actress is under sentence of from one to three years in San Quentin prison on a charge of attempting to conceal facts in connection with the slaying of her husband, Ray Raymond. Raymond died following a fist fight with Paul Kelly, actor, now serving from one to ten years on a manslaughter charge.

A little nonsense now and then keeps one or two of our prominent United States senators almost constantly on Page 1.—Detroit News.

THE MODERN FISHER BROS.

HOW TO FIGHT EXCESS FAT

There are hard ways, like starvation, but fewer and fewer employ them. There is a pleasant way, modern and scientific, which combats the cause. A vast number of people now use it. And the slender figures now seen everywhere are largely due to that.

That method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. And everybody, in almost every circle, sees the change. New beauty, new health, new vitality.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Learn the facts about Marmola, because of the good it has done. Ask your druggist—now—for a $1 box with the book. Then decide.

KELLOGG DECLARES WAR SHOULD BE SUPPRESSED

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—"All war is an assault upon the stability of human society and should be suppressed in the common interests."

Diplomatic circles here were stirred today by this declaration of Secretary Kellogg in his reply to the last French note on the Briand proposal for a treaty to outlaw war.

No informed person here expects that anything definite will come of the present effort between France and the United States, for the Kellogg proposal disregards the cardinal point of French policy—security—and is certain to be answered either by rejection or vitiating qualifications.

Again rejecting the French attempt to limit the force of the proposed treaty to wars of "Aggression," Kellogg challenged the good faith of Foreign Minister Briand and renewed the United States' demand for a multilateral treaty between all the world powers forever renouncing war as an instrument of national policy.

This was the scope of the original Briand proposal of last June, intended to be effective only between the United States and France. On January 3, Kellogg proposed extension of the principle to all world powers. France objected that the multilateral treaty would encroach upon her obligations as a member of the League of Nations, and modified the original proposal to apply only to wars of aggression.

Chiding Briand for "a technical spirit," Kellogg again asked France to be a party to "an unequivocal and unqualified renunciation of wars as an instrument of national policy."

How, he asked, in effect, do the League obligations permit a two-power treaty to this effect and yet militate against a six-power pact?

"The difference," Kellogg declared, "seems to me to be one of degree and not of substance. A government free to conclude such a bilateral treaty should be no less able to become a party to an identical multilateral treaty."

Recalling that the renunciation of war framed by the recent Pan-American conference at Havana accepted by 17 members of the League of Nations, Kellogg incorporated the suggestion of an ultimatum in his statement of the League's relation to the negotiations.

"If, However, members of the League of Nations cannot, without violating the terms of the convenant to the League, agree among themselves and with the United States to renounce war as an instrument of their national policy, it seems idle to discuss either bilateral or multilateral treaties unreservedly renouncing war."

Zoning Appeals Board Will Meet

Three Appeals To Be Heard At Session On Next Tuesday Afternoon

The board of zoning appeals when it holds its regular monthly meeting in the city council chambers Tuesday afternoon March 6, at 3:30 o'clock, will have three cases up for consideration. Permits have been refused by the city engineer in each of the cases because of violations of the zoning regulations in which the proposed changes or improvements are to be made.

The first case is that of Mrs. H. K. Rayser, 1512 Grimes street, who desires to operate a store in a private residence at that place. This is designated as a C residence district and under the zoning regulations, a store may not be opened.

The second case is that of W. H. Aubel, who is seeking permission to erect a house at 1408 North Mercer street. The point where he desires to erect the house is in reality the rear part of two lots facing Garfield avenue and cornering on that street and Mercer street. The lots are 159 feet in depth. Mr. Aubel proposes taking 53 feet off the rear of these lots and building a house fronting on Mercer street. The house would have a setback from the street of sixteen feet as proposed by Mr. Aubel, while the zoning regulations call for a twenty-five foot setback. It is on this technical grounds that the permit was refused.

The third case is that of John Dunkerley of 937 Rose avenue, who seeks permission to enclose the west half of his front porch in glass, which is contrary to the zoning regulations of the district.

Cannot Wipe Out Completely Corn Borer, Is Claim

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Experts of the department of agriculture have abandoned hope of completely wiping out the European corn borer in the United States, Dr. C. L. Mariatt, chairman of the Federal Horticultural board, told the House Appropriations sub-committee on the department's budget, it was disclosed in hearings today.

The department hopes to minimize losses through educating farmers to clean up their land, he said.

At the same time, department experts asked a $150,000 appropriation to develop substitutes for corn should the corn borer sweep the country.

New Letter From Torch Murderer

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEWARK, Feb. 29.—Another letter from the "torch murderer" of Miss Margaret Brown, Park avenue governess, has been received by police here it was announced today by Chief Frank Brex.

"No need looking for me," the letter said. "I am stopping temporarily with friends here but I am going to leave almost any day now. If you do get near me you won't take me because I have with me a nice looking and nice tasting bottle which I will take because I don't want to be burned to hell with Jersey justice."

The letter which was signed "From?" was printed by hand with a pencil. Brex refused to reveal where or when the letter had been mailed."

Fuel-less Motor Controversy Is Getting Warmer

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29.—The controversy over the Hendershot "fuel-less" motor, aimed to revolutionize aviation, became more heated this afternoon when a group of scientists and electrical engineers decided to meet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, at 10 a. m., tomorrow to issue a formal challenge to all persons who claim inventions to produce power or light from the natural energy of the earth or atmosphere.

Lester J. Hendershot, the West Elizabeth, Pa., inventor, who claims to have devised a "fuel-less" motor will be the chief recipient of the challenge. Col. Charles A Lindbergh, who saw the motor demonstrated, will be invited to attend the New York meeting as will representatives of the Guggenheim Aviation Fund interests and leading scientists.

F. W. Hochstetter, local scientists and former associate of Hendershot, heads the group of doubters here.

REFUSE PUBLISHERS DECREASE IN RATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The Post Office Department has refused to yield to the pleas of publishers to reduce second class rates to the 1920 basis, Joseph Stewart, executive assistant to Postmaster General New, informed the House Post Office committee today. The department has recommended reduction to the 1921 basis.

Stewart contended that increased business produced by the greater reduction of rates would not equalize the loss in revenue.

Scientists say that sound travels about 1000 feet per second, but they probably have never been around a bunch of Democrats whispering at a convention.

Believe Sandino Is Headed Toward Honduran Border

(International News Service)

MANAGUA, NICARAGUA, Feb. 29.—The Honduras authorities have been asked by the United States to keep a sharp watch for Gen. Augustino Sandino, the rebel leader, and members of his staff if they flee across the border before the advancing detachments of United States marines and native constabulary, it was learned here today. Word was received that Jose Sequira, a member of Sandino's staff, has been arrested in Honduras where he is reported to have tried to obtain munitions for the rebels.

A detachment of 36 marines were fired upon by bandits 5 miles northwest of Jinotega. It is not yet officially known if there were any casualties. The marines were enroute from Yali to Condega convoying an empty pack train which was returning for supplies.

Buffalo Bill, Scout Of Scouts—Part III
Little Billy And The Indians

WHEN BILLY CODY WAS SEVEN YEARS OLD, HIS FATHER GAVE HIM A PONY. THE BOY NAMED HIS PET "PRINCE" AND BEFORE LONG HAD BECOME AN EXPERT HORSEMAN. BILLY USED TO RIDE "PRINCE" FOR LONG DISTANCES ON ERRANDS FOR HIS FATHER.

THE KICKAPOO INDIAN RESERVATION WAS NEAR CODY'S TRADING POST, AND BILLY OFTEN VISITED THE INDIAN VILLAGES. HE WAS SOON POPULAR WITH HIS RED-SKINNED NEIGHBORS, AND MADE GOOD FRIENDS OF SOME OF THE YOUNGER BUCKS.

FROM THE KICKAPOOS, YOUNG CODY LEARNED TO SHOOT WITH THE BOW AND ARROW, TO HURL THE LANCE, AND THROW THE LARIAT. THEY ALSO TAUGHT HIM THE LEGENDS AND CUSTOMS OF THE RED MEN AND TO CONVERSE IN THEIR DIALECT.

IN THE AUTUMN OF 1853, MR. CODY BROUGHT HIS FAMILY FROM HIS BROTHER ELIJAH'S FARM IN MISSOURI TO THE KANSAS TRADING POST. BILLY HELPED HIS FATHER ERECT A COMFORTABLE LOG BUILDING IN PREPARATION FOR THE COMING OF HIS MOTHER AND SISTERS.

Duquesne Stops Winning Streak For Westminster

Conference Leaders Are Given Unexpected Setback Last Night, 32-22

Dukes Present Sensational Game And Lead From Outset Of Clash

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 29.—Westminster's basketball conference escutcheon, unsullied by any defeat up until last night, is considerably soiled today. A large black smear runs across it, in size, 32x22, and over at the edge can be seen the tag, Duquesne.

For Duquesne won from the Titans Tuesday evening, won by the decisive score of 32 to 22, and won in a most workmanlike manner. With a defense that was almost impregnable, and an attack that always had a man under the bucket waiting, the Dukes looked impressive in their victory. And standing out from among them was a little bit of a tow head, Bud Stephens, a forward who was as active as a hungry mosquito and as accurate as a public accountant.

Westminster Way Off

No alibis are going to be offered for the loss, for Duquesne was an entirely different outfit than the one Westminster defeated in Pittsburgh some weeks ago. It can be said in all honesty however that Westminster was off its game, miles off. Conners, the rangy center could not get started and was as wild in his shots as the proverbial March hare. Usually good for three or four buckets in a game, Sparky was at sea Tuesday night. Delehunty and O'Donovan were covered in a most workmanlike manner by the Dukes although Delly got four markers through the hoops. The real star for Westminster was Chuck Ayers, giant guard who stood like a stone wall time and again turning back the Dukes when they seemed headed for another tally. And with him can be named Tudor Lewis, the captain.

Dukes Lead Throughout

Duquesne took the lead at the outset of the game, and although the score was deadlocked a number of times during the half, was ahead by a small margin when the half ended. Westminster valiantly tried to overcome this lead during the second half, but the Dukes were too much for them, and gradually increased the lead by accurate shooting, and fast team work until they led by a ten point margin at the close of the contest. Westminster failed to come near taking the game after the end of the first half.

Thirteen victories seems to have a jinx for Westminster, and the strain of going through the conference season undefeated has resulted in a burned out condition that can be remedied only by rest.

The defeat by Duquesne leaves the conference championship still in the air, at least from a mathematical standpoint.

The crowd on Tuesday night was an inspiration. Packed from entrance to rafters it was one of the biggest throngs that ever witnessed a game in the Westminster gym and the big crowd was repaid for its presence.

It was an unfortunate break for Westminster but not a serious one if the boys can get back on their game.

The score follows:

Duquesne 32		Westminster 22
Benedict	F	O'Donovan
Stephens	F	Delahunty
Vernon	C	Connor
Losman	G	T. Lewis
Rosenberg	G	Ayers

Field goals—Benedict 6, Stephens 2, Vernon 4, Losman, Delahunty 4, T. Lewis 2, Ayers.

Foul goals—Duquesne 6 out of 8. Westminster 8 out of 11.

Substitutions—W. Lewis for Delahunty, Witherspoon for T. Lewis, McMeekin for O'Donovan, Reich for Stephens.

Referee—Beggs Snyder.

Umpire—Buck Snyder.

New Castle High Team Guests At New Wilmington

Through the courtesy of Andy McDonald, graduate manager of athletics at Westminster college, the New Castle High school basketball team and coaches were guests of the college last night at the Westminster-Duquesne game.

The New Castle boys got a glimpse of two of the finest teams in the tri-state conference in action last night, and the red and black team was rooting heavy for the Westminsterites to come through, but any team will have an off night. The locals more than likely gained many pointers that will help them in their coming battle with Butler at the Pitt stadium.

New Castle High Looks For Stiff Battle On Friday

New Castle High School Basketball Team To Get Iron Test Friday Night

Series Stands Even For Season To Date; Enter Strenuous Training

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High school basketball team has its work cut-out for them on Friday night, when they tackle the Butler High team at the Pitt stadium in their only play-off game of the W. P. I. A. L. district.

In the estimation of many the game Friday night compares favorably with any in the first bracket of the W. P. I. A. L. tourney pairings. With the Section III title at stake, and also the right to enter the tourney staring them in the fact the two schoolboy quintets will fight to the last ditch for supremacy.

The third game of the series between New Castle and Butler on Friday night should produce some of the best basketball of the year. Each team holds a victory over the other and the controversy rages as to which team is the best. This question will be settled in not so many hours.

New Castle High will have a distinct advantage over the Butler team in their meeting Friday, due to the fact that the locals have played at the Pitt stadium floor for the past two years, and have a rather fair knowledge of the conditions, whereas the Butler team will make their debut on Friday night, and they can be expected to show signs of nervousness especially before a crowd of close to 10,000.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is giving the locals plenty of work this week in preparation for the game, and it is a safe bet that the red and black team will be fit and ready for the whistle that sends them into action. A means of penetrating that famous "blockade" is the thing that is worrying the locals to some extent.

Young Rudy To Box Freddy Fitzgerald

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 29.—Young Rudy and Freddy Fitzgerald clash in the 10-round main bout at Rayen-Wood auditorium Thursday night and Promoter Zill expects a big crowd to see the 140 pounders in action. Four other bouts will also be staged.

Wampum Indies Win Over Steel Team

Pull Up From Behind And Take Well Earned 37 To 30 Victory

WAMPUM, Feb. 29.—The Wampum Indies won a hard fought game over the strong J. and L. Steel team of Woodlawn by the score of 37 to 30.

At the quarter, the Indies trailed but after a rest, the steam roller again got under way and crushed the tubers defense and rode to a hard earned victory. It was the first time that the J. and L. team has been defeated outside of league competition and the Indies feel justly proud of their defeat.

Summary:

Indies 37		J. and L. Steel 30
Boone	F	E. Dull
Hennon	F	Evans
Blythe	C	Landquist
Patterson	G	B. Dull
White	G	Munskisky

Substitutions: Smith, Martin.

Score by quarters:

Indies	5	8	10	14—37
J. and L.	8	8	4	10—30

Goals: Boone 5, Hennon 5, Blythe 3, White, E. Dull, Smith, Evans 6, B. Dull 6, Martin.

Fouls: Indies, 9 out of 17. J. and L., none out of 5.

Round Trip Fare To Pittsburgh Over P. & L. E. Lines Is Placed At $1.80

Special Will Leave New Castle At 5:30 O'clock; Game Starts At Eight O'clock

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Final arrangements for the New Castle-Butler game at the Pitt stadium on Friday night have been made according to an announcement today from Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

The special train fare to Pittsburgh, round trip, will be $1.80. This is an increase of five cents over the originally scheduled price. The special will leave New Castle at 5:30 o'clock and will return from Pittsburgh about 10:30 o'clock. Several coaches have been reserved for the high school students with Mr. Nelson and Miss Boyd as the faculty supervisors, in charge of the high school coaches.

Judging from the ticket sale here this week, the special train that steams out of this city on Friday night will have about six or eight coaches. Arrangements have been made to have street cars meet the train at the P. & L. E. station in Pittsburgh and convey the fans to the Pitt stadium.

Gardner received word today that Cal Bolster and McGlinchey would be the officials in charge of the game on Friday night. Bolster is the president of the Western Pennsylvania Basketball Officials association and is a most reliable referee.

The New Castle high school team, comprised of the following, will leave New Castle at 2:49 o'clock Friday afternoon for Pittsburgh: Captain Paul Reider, Ostrosky, Alexander, Cuba, Sillman, Thomas, McClelland, Kulich, Johnson and Richards. Coaches Bridenbaugh and Klee, Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner and the writer. The New Castle team will likely have headquarters at the Schenley hotel while in the "Smoky City".

Tickets for the game are on sale at the Sporting Goods store and also at the high school. According to word this morning the tickets are moving fast. The admission to the game is 50 cents if the tickets are bought here in New Castle and $1 if bought at the Pitt stadium.

A basketball chapel was held at the senior high school this morning to stir up interest in the game and to check up on the students that are desirous of making the trip to Pittsburgh.

Trade School Team Defeats Zelienople

New Castle Trade School Quintet Defeats Zelienople 31 To 19, Tuesday Night

Johns And Kenst Are Big Stars As Traders Avenge Only Setback Of Year

New Castle Trade School basketball team closed their regular schedule last night at the Ben Franklin High floor in a blaze of glory, by toppling the fast Zelienople High team, members of Section III of the W. P. I. A. L. The final score was 31 to 19.

It was a brilliant victory for the Trade School quintet over a team that rated the W. P. I. A. L. The convincing way in which the Traders went about their work of piling up a huge lead in the first half forecast the doom that was to befall the visitors from Butler County.

With Johns and Kenst leading the way, the locals opened up with an attack in the first quarter that netted them a fine lead and at the end of the first half were ahead 17 to 10.

Traders Lead Throughout

Continuing their super-playing in the third and fourth stanzas the Trade School boys soon had a commanding lead and several subs found their way into the fray. Had the first team been left in the game all the way the score would no doubt have been doubled.

The passing and team-work of the Traders was the finest shown this year and they made all of their shots at the basket count. Zelienople tried desperately in every quarter to stem the tide that was slowly enveloping them, but it was an inspired Trade School team that carried through to a most impressive victory.

The Trade School boys have won thirteen games and lost but one this year, the only defeat of the year was at the hands of the Zelienople team at Zelienople early in the year by a score of 30 to 27.

The summary:

Trade School 31		Zelienople 19
Johns	F	Evans
Kenst	F	Theis
Stewart	C	Colmery
Shook	G	Wilson
Owens	G	Geis

Subs.—Jenkins, Watson, Reed, Eiler, Iff. Field goals: Johns 3, Kenst 4, Stewart 2, Jenkins 2, Watson, Evans 2, Theis, Colmery, Geis. Fouls: Trade School, 7 out of 11. Zelienople, 9 out of 12. Referee—Forbes.

Heeney Favored To Beat Delaney

Experts Pick Heeney To Win From Jack Delaney Tomorrow Night

WINNER TO MEET TUNNEY FOR TITLE

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Quite a few astute dollars of my acquaintance—we never really became intimate—will go for a ride tomorrow night on the belief that Mr. Tunney's scheduled dupe for the entertainment of the June trade will not be Ovila Chapdelaine, alias Jack Delaney. These sagacious dollars will be laid end on end, at the current odds, in support of a theory that the monsieur will blow this one with his customary eclat and that Tom Heeney, the poor but honest heavyweight, will flat-wheel off with the verdict.

This intelligent money will say that the monsieur is not the man to deal properly with a rugged situation like this but it is none of my ding-dang business, you understand, if you prefer to bet the other way and lay your eight dollars against five. These are the existing odds and it may be significant that some of the discerning money that rode in with McLarnin last week will come back for the short end tomorrow.

The lads will meet in the first two battles of the split-second to determine just who shall have the technical pleasure of meeting Mr. Tunney unsociably in June. The Sharkey-Risko affair of March 12 being the other. It may be that Mr. Tunney will find himself with exactly no opponent by the time they get through but I can't help that, either.

Kennel Club Has Excellent Session

Plans For Spring Activities And Show Are Given Consideration

An enthusiastic meeting of members of the Lawrence County Kennel club was held last night in the assembly room at the Y. M. C. A. at which further plans were perfected for the holding of the proposed Margaret Henry Home benefit dog show, an event of early May in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

President Al Jones occupied the chair, the meeting being featured by the presence of a large number of dog lovers not actual members of the organization.

Pep singing was led by Constable Tom O'Brien and interesting remarks were made by L. C. Johns of Springer Spaniel fame; C. M. Jordan, the well known Boston Terrier breeder, Ray M. George whose Collies proved to be leaders at the Specialty Collie show in Pittsburgh last week and others.

M. F. Kaiser of Ellwood City, one of the most extensive breeders of Shepherd, more generally known as German Police dogs, offered to give an exhibition of police work, man trailing and criminal hunting with his dogs during each afternoon of the show and this generous offer was gladly accepted by the club. Charles S. Altonburg, of West Pittsburgh, another breeder and exhibitor of the man trailers gave an interesting talk and promised strong financial support for the coming benefit. Mr. Altonburg's dogs took first honors at the recent Butler show and at several other shows where they have performed in recent months.

Fourteen new members affixed their names to membership roll.

A committee reported that The Castleton has made a generous donation towards the expenses of the show and it is among the possibilities that the hostelry may be made the official headquarters of visiting judges and exhibitors of whom there will be several hundred during the two days of the show.

Another meeting in furtherance of the show will be held next Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A.

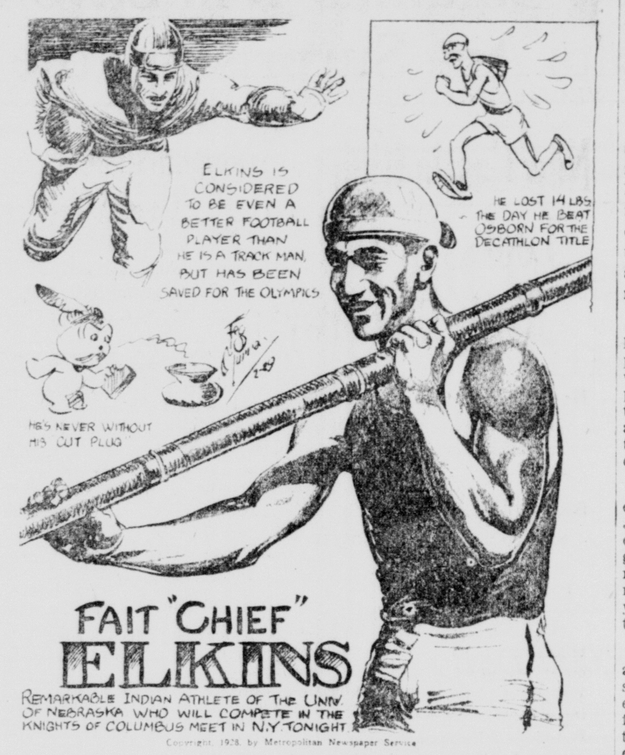
He "Chews" To Run — By Feg Murray



Fate must have something unusual in store tonight. The Knights of Columbus stage their annual indoor games in Madison Square Garden, New York, and a young Hiawatha has come east to make his first appearance in defense of the honors that he won in Nebraska last July. Fate chose a date that occurs only once every four years for this young redskin's debut in the eyes of the effete east, and combining that with the fact that the young brave's first name is Fait, you have a setting that augurs some sort of a remarkable performance.

Fait "Chief" Elkins, Iroquois Indian athlete from the University of Nebraska, will compete in septathlon, or seven-event all-around test, at the "Casey" games. Great interest surrounds the Chief's initial New York appearance, as he is the National A. A. U. decathlon titleholder, and one of America's best bets to win that event at the Amsterdam Olympics. In winning his title at Lincoln last July, Elkins established a new American record of 7,574.42 points, and defeated such famous all-around athletes as Osborn, the Olympic champion and world's record-holder; Emerson Norton, Tony Plansky, Harry Frieda, Vernon Kennedy, Penn Relay champion, and Jim Stewart.

Besides being the greatest all-around Indian athlete since Jim Thorpe's day, Elkins is as colorful as they make 'em. It is a great sight to see him prepare to vault. He wears a skull cap, chews a bit on a cud of plug-cut, sends out a brown stream of tobacco juice from his mouth and then starts his run. I imagine that the K. of C. management would do well to equip the Garden with cuspidors for tonight's events.

Feg Murray Says—

Why don't the traffic cops arrest some of these hit-and-run boxers?

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

They say that bad news travels fast and good news travels slow but this is wrong in one business—boxing. At least that is the writer's opinion and it would not be surprising were more cities in the Tri-State belt to toss ten round bouts into the discard and adopt the fast six round method already in vogue here.

During the past week the writer has received several inquiries from persons interested in boxing, all of whom want to know if it is possible to promote boxing at a profit in cities the size of our own, Sharon, Butler, and Beaver Falls. There is no question in the writer's mind but that this can be done.

Late last summer the writer was one of a number who interested Bill Jolly in boxing and when the length of bouts cropped to the fore we suggested that Jolly cater to the six round route, pointing out that top-notchers could not be shown here and young boxers do not have the stamina to go fast for ten rounds.

We pointed out to Jolly that there are many young boxers who can step six rounds at a fast gait while the experienced pugilists generally loaf for several rounds unless they are of the more rugged type. Generally they excuse themselves on the pretense that "I couldn't get going for a couple of rounds."

At the Old Armory A. C. the opponents start with the bell. They keep going. The fighting, in 99 per cent of the battles, has been furious and approximately two thirds of the contests have ended in knockouts. Each successive crowd has been larger and if attendance continues to increase, Jolly will have to seek larger quarters.

And now about the profit, the crowds already having arrived. It is natural that the boys who are shown here are not champions or in the first rank but who cares? New Castle does not care to see a topnotcher pitted against a "set-up". The fans here are too well educated for a thing of this sort.

Put two third rate fighters into the ring and they will give the fans a run for their money. Put a first rate battler against a second notcher and the fans will be hooked. The topnotcher will fool around awhile and win by a big margin or a knockout. The match will prove uneven and an unsavory taste is left in fandom's mouth.

Mickie Solomon fights Young Guido of Farrell tonight in a bout at Warren, O., and it looks as though Mickie will score a victory. Solomon has been inactive on account of a dentist having to go to work on some teeth he had broken when an opponent's arm broke off several front teeth in a bout at McKeesport.

And while writing of Solomon, is it true that he lags in training? The writer has been told that Mickie doesn't train as he should. Unless he puts his mind to business he had best cease boxing which is no chinaware game. Mickie has everything that goes to help a comer. He is the best looking boy New Castle has had for years.

Next Monday night Harry Crisp of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Jimmie Russell of Ashtabula, featherweights, clash in the six round windup. Crisp and Russell are very good boys and fans can expect another hot battle. Crisp has fought the best of southern featherweights and Russell has been going good throughout Ohio.

The Illustrious New Chrysler "72"

Proves Every Claim of Superior Quality, Performance and Value

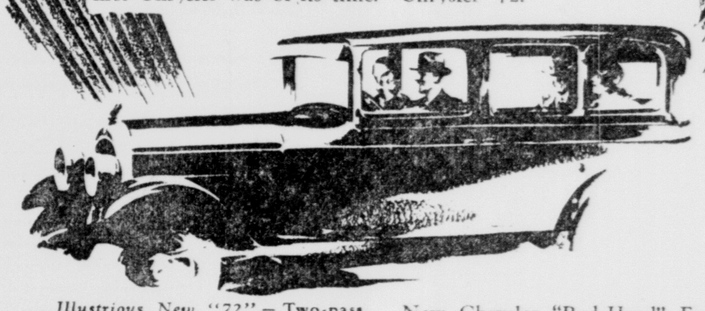
Before Chrysler entered the field, automobiles were bulky, clumsy and most unremarkable and uninteresting in lines, appearance, speed and acceleration.

Then along came the sparkling Chrysler and in a moment put life into motor car style and performance.

Today the Illustrious New "72"—longer, roomier, faster, handsomer—is as far ahead of its pretending competition as the first Chrysler was of its time.

A 75 h. p. engine—72 miles an hour plus with consummate ease; bodies longer, wider and roomier—chassis spring ends mounted in quiet rubber shock insulators. Body appointments beautiful and decorative—lines long and sweeping—colors distinctive and harmonious—all this at remarkable low prices.

There is just one way for you to be sure of getting the advantages which only Chrysler "72" offers—that is, to buy a Chrysler "72."



Illustrious New "72" — Two-pass. Coupe (with rumble seat), $1545; Royal Sedan, $1595; Sport Roadster (with rumble seat), $1595; Four-pass. Coupe, $1595; Town Sedan, $1695; Convertible Coupe (with rumble seat), $1745; Crown Sedan, $1795.

New Chrysler "52" — $670 to $790; Great New Chrysler "62" — $1065 to $1235; New 112 h. p. Imperial "80" —$2795 to $6795.

New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine—designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas, giving 12% greater torque with greater speed, power, hill-climbing ability and fuel economy, is standard equipment on the roadsters of the "62," "72," and on all models of the New 112 h. p. Imperial "80" and available, at slight extra cost, for other body types.

All prices f. o. b. Detroit, subject to current Federal excise tax. Chrysler dealers are in position to extend the convenience of time payments. 1168

Training Camps

(International News Service)

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Feb. 29. — The full Pirate assemblage, with the exception of Catcher John Gooch, was to participate in the morning and afternoon workout for the first time today. Gooch is expected to arrive at camp within a few days. Two pitching prospects have reported injuries. Fred Fussell, southpaw, has a stiff knee as a result of a fall, and Irving Brame, right-hander, has a sore salary wing.

FT. MYERS, Fla., Feb. 29—The real spring training grind starts for the Athletics today. With the infielders and outfielders due before noon Connie Mack excused the boys from the regular morning practice but has ordered a stiff practice for all this afternoon. Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins and Sammy Hale, the missing third baseman will be among the new arrivals. Mack is still waiting word from Cobb.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Feb. 29. — Batting practice is on the Phils' schedule for this afternoon regardless of whether the infielders and outfielders arrive or not. Manager Bert Shottong declares the pitchers are coming along fine and has ordered batting practice for a change. Florida West Coast open golf championship with a score of 283 for the 72 holes. MacDonald Smith, New York, was second with 285.

Pitcher Jimmy Ring surprised the camp by reporting yesterday along with Bill Deitrick, shortstop candidate, who had a trial with the Boston Red Sox. Ring has not signed but is expected to within a day or two.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 29. — Minus Catcher Zach Taylor, who was released to the Boston Braves at the waiver price, Manager John McGraw and battery men of the New York Giants are due here tonight from Hot Springs, Ark. Most of the other regulars are already at the training camp here.

Declaring that Hogan and Cummings are capable receivers, New York players here said the loss of Taylor would not hurt the team's pennant prospects. The braves needed a catcher badly.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 29. — Three of the heaviest hitters on the Brooklyn squad—Babe Herman, Del Bisonnette and Harvey Hendrick—all want to play first base, but Uncle Wilbert Robinson is grooming Herman for an outfield berth. Although he was beaned by a fly ball in his first workout, the Babe showed signs of fielding ability.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 29. Lazzeri, Hoyt and Shocker have not yet signed with the Yankees, and Lazerri is reported to be holding out for a two-year contract at $15,000 a season. Manager Miller Huggins professes not to be worried by Lazzeri's absence in view of the brilliant fielding exhibition given by Leo Durocher, a rookie, in his first workout here. Durocher formerly played with St. Paul.

CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Feb. 29. Freddie Maguire and Norman McMillan, both candidates for the second base job, have taken the eye of Boss McCarthy of the Cubs. The way these boys are hitting the apple makes Manager Joe wish he had two second base berths to fill. Another who found his batting eye early is Woody English, the expensive shortstop. With Ki Ki Cuyler and other sluggers in the lineup it looks like a fence-busting year for the Cubs.

Earl Carroll Is Operated Upon In New York Hospital

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Earl Carroll well-known theatrical producer, was resting comfortably at a local hospital today after undergoing a mastoid operation last night. Physicians said he withstood the operation well and would be able to leave the hospital in a week.

When taken to the hospital, Carroll was described by a friend as a "pretty sick" boy. A heavy cold caused a sinus infection which spread to the mastoid.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—A spurt in the oil stocks and specialties at the beginning of trading today carried prices of a number of the well known issues a point or two above the level of Tuesday's close. Short covering in the specialties followed the circulation of reports that the reserve board at Washington would vigorously oppose legislation attempting to restrict or interfere in any way with speculative borrowing at the member banks.

Firming up of the oil markets, and a gradual increase in the distribution prices for gasoline stimulated buying demand for the oil shares. The Petroleum Institute reported a 14,000 barrel daily decline in crude oil production, bringing current production to the slowest daily average since the latter part of 1926. While storage quantity of refined and crude oil is enormous, consumption has increased approximately 20 per cent in the last year or two, and the markets are gradually using up the huge surplus.

LEAP YEAR FIZZLE AS MARRIAGES DROP FAR BELOW AVERAGE

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—Leap year here is a "flop".

At least this is the view of several "marrying" justices of the peace, who for the past 11 years have participated in hundreds of marriage ceremonies.

"Leap year is something to laugh about, nothing more," said Justice of the Peace W. J. Zoul.

"I feel," said Justice of the Peace J. E. Chizek, proprietor of the only magistrate's marriage parlor in the state, "that we all would be better off without leap year. It's the bunk."

To show how bad "business" is, Marriage License Clerk Frank Zizelman supplied a few "figures".

In January, 1928, he sold but 570 marriage licenses, as compared with 707 for the same month a year ago.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Staff Writer for Central Press and New Castle News

The recent changes in the personnel of the United States Lawn Tennis association which bring that organization and Big Bill Tilden into a closer alliance, bids fair to do much toward lifting America back to its old sphere in the tennis world.

For the simple reason that Bill Tilden is the man best fitted to assist the organization in this task, and under the old net regime, Tilden's aid was neither sought nor desired. He was persona non grata with the old order.

They undoubtedly did realize that Tilden was the greatest tennis player in the country, and had a better working knowledge of the game and the men in it than any other man in the country. But they fought constantly the fear that Tilden might overshadow the tennis association.

Samuel H. Collom, the new net president, has made it quite clear that the most crying need of the organization in its effort to bring back the Davis cup and other laurels is to present a united front. He says frankly that Tilden is the man to lead the way in swinging the forces into line.

Collom also remarks that there is no younger talent ripe enough to replace Big Bill immediately, and makes it clear that the association would be harming itself in continuing the petty disagreements and squabbles stirred up in former years.

With all personal enmity and ill feeling wiped clean, Tilden, for the first time, finds himself in a position to consult openly and frankly with the tennis officials in offering his views and suggestions for re-establishing the prestige of the United States.

And Tilden seems big enough to accept the responsibility placed on his shoulders, realizing fully the part he personally can play in achieving the end sought.

The French might and skill still lie ahead, but the old-time menace of disorganization and discord at home has at last been eliminated.

We can look for better days in tennis.

Offers Reward For Phantom Sniper

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29.—Col. Louis J. Kolb, wealthy baking company owner, today offered $500 reward for the capture of the phantom sniper who fired twice at Kolb's auto last night and narrowly missed hitting Mrs. Kolb.

The sniper bagged two victims yesterday, resuming his activities after a peaceful Monday. His other target was William Taylor, of National Park, N. J., whose auto windshield was shattered by a shot as he drove through Gloucester, N. J.

Kolb denied the firing was an attempt of a discharged employe trying to assassinate him. He said he had no trouble with any employe, nor has he any known personal enemies.

OSSINING, N. Y., Feb. 29.—John Shanahan, electrician at Sing Sing, has been directed to devise a lighting system for the electric chair that will make it impossible for anyone to take a camera picture of an execution. He is working on the theory that a glare can be arranged to interfere with the exposure.

The present lights make the chair and its occupant stand out during an execution as brightly as if they were in a midday sun, and it was this condition which enabled a photographer, who is said by prison officials to have broken faith, to obtain a photograph of Mrs. Ruth Snyder dying.

Seek Uses For Waste Sawdust

Experts Seek Uses For 10% Of Timber Wasted In Sawdust

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 29.—Experts of the state department of forests and waters are aiding in a national campaign to utilize a larger proportion of the sawdust which now goes to waste annually in Pennsylvania.

The weekly bulletin of the department, issued today, lists a number of the uses to which sawdust is now put and speculates on the possibility of finding additional ones. Such a move is considered important because between 10 and 13 per cent of a log is converted into sawdust during the sawing process.

Uses listed at present include making the sawdust into bruquets. It is used in markets and butcher shops as floor covering and as packing in shipment of nursery products. More than 4600 tons are utilized annually in California for packing grapes for shipment.

The leather industry consumes 1100 tons a year in certain of its processes.

Wood flour is merely finely ground sawdust, the grinding ordinarily being done between stones. The estimated annual production of this matter in the United States is 24,000 tons valued at about $750,000. In addition to the domestic supply, 6,500 tons are imported annually from Europe. Approximately 16,000 tons or more than 50 per cent of our yearly consumption of wood flour enters into the manufacture of linoleum. Mixed with cementing material such as rosin or linseed oil, it makes a tough, dough-like mass which serves as a top coating for this popular floor covering.

Wood flour also forms the filler for dynamite cartridges and about 3,700 tons are employed for this purpose annually. With one of the phenol resins as a binder, it is molded into many useful articles such as radio dials, telephone parts, talking machine records, various sorts of handles, bowling balls and brush backs. Fibrous wood flour is also used to make what is known to the trade as "oatmeal" wall paper.

Resume Trial Of Payroll Bandit In Pittsburgh

Trial Of Stanley Bodziakowski Is Resumed Today In Pittsburgh Court

ALLEGED MEMBER OF JAWORSKI GANG

International News Service

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 29.—Trial of Stanley Bodziakowski, 30, alleged member of the notorious Jawarski gang of payroll robbers, was resumed today before Judge Ambrose Reid in criminal court here.

The charge against Bodziakowski, who has several aliases, implicates him in the $104,000 payroll robbery of the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Corporation perpetrated in March, 1927, this city, Tuesday evening about 10:30.

While an armored car of the Brinks Express company carried the big payroll through a lonely section of Bethel township, the Jawarski crowd dynamited the car and its escort and made away with the payroll.

The robbery was one of the most revolting and carefully planned on record in Allegheny county, according to District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner, who with his assistant, Andrew Park, is prosecuting the case against Bodziakowski.

Jawarski at Large

Working under the guise of highways department laborers, the bandits had planted dynamite under the road and connected electric wires to it. They hid in a nearby field and when the armored car passed, pressed a button which discharged the dynamite.

While the car was wrecked, its occupants escaped serious injury.

The next day authorities took into custody Paul Jaworski on the farm of Joe Weckowski in Washington county, not far from Charleroi. They found the farm to be the rendezvous of the bandit gang and later dug up much stolen money there.

Jaworski was tried for the murder of a pay guard in a previous robbery and convicted. While under death sentence in the Allegheny county jail last fall he and two companions shot their way to freedom, and have not been captured.

In the opening address to the jury, Attorney Park described the robbery as one of "The most daring and boldest in the history of Allegheny county.

The driver of the armored car, William Tarr, said he saw the bandits and that one of them resembled Bodziakowski though he could not make the identification positive. The other occupants of the car were so dazzled by the explosion that they did not see the bandits.

State troopers were to be called today to relate incidents concerning the finding of the bandits' loot on the Weckowski farm and other officers to tell of the arrest of Bodziakowski in Montreal.

Fathers And Sons At Highland Church

Annual Banquet Given By Boy Scout Troop Of The Church Tuesday Night

Nearly 150 men and boys gathered for the annual fathers and sons banquet of the Highland U. P. church in the banquet room of the church Tuesday evening, where, after the feast, a fine program was given under the direction of Dr. T. C. McFate, chairman of the Highland troop committee and toastmaster of the evening.

The principal speaker of the evening was Prof. H. E. McConnell, superintendent of the Mercer county schools, who gave a very fine address on the subject of "Education". Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, spoke on the relation of the boy to the father and the father to the boy. Frank Brenneman gave the toast for the boys while John McGrath gave the toast for the men.

Music for the evening was furnished by Miss Elizabeth Brewster, Miss Margaret Graham and Mrs. J. W. McCreary. Thomas Perrott led the pep singing of the evening. A quartet introduced by Lawrence Fehl, composed of Messers. Kisthart, Rees, Francis and Harris, gave several fine selections. Mrs. Rees played the accompaniment for the quartet.

Ralph Davis, scoutmaster of the Highland troop, assembled the scouts and Dr. C. J. Williamson, pastor of the Highland U. P. church, presented the charter for the troop to Dr. T. J. McFate, chairman of the scout committee.

The committee for the occasion was composed of Dr. T. J. McFate as chairman and Lawrence Fehl as secretary with T. C. Boston, John Wallace, William Smith, John Haven, Ray Rhodes, John McGrath and Vance Burkholder.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of interesting Things Around New Castle.

After last night's roaming up at the Westminster-Duquesne basketball game the old throat feels like a bass horn. That was a game, customers, one of those kind that has your heart up in your mouth, with fans on both sides of you trying to cave in a couple of ribs.

Westminster lost, which spoils a perfectly good record, of course, but doesn't spoil the fact that it was a basketball game. Duquesne had a new attack worked out last night, the most effective attack that you ever saw, and a defense that was as close as a kid glove.

But in spite of the loss the Westminster students cheered as loudly and as enthusiastically as though they were winning, and "the old Westminster spirit" was in evidence as it always is.

The gym was packed to suffocation, and in that crowd was a group of old-time basketball and baseball stars, the Peerless Club of New Castle. There is considerable gray hair in the Peerless Club now, but time was when they were just about the sweetest thing on a basketball floor in this section.

Fifty of them had reservations up at Wilmington last night, and after the game had a little feed over at the hotel. It would be hard to name all of them, but here's an idea of who was present. Doc McConahy, Eddie and Bill Connery, Bill Andrews, Dave Nessle, Hui Hart, Lou Harlan, Bert Sullivan, Harold Stevenson, and that's just a sample of the names.

Sportsmen, all of them. And after they got through playing themselves they got back of the youngsters coming up. That's one reason why athletics in New Castle High school have come to the front. The Peerless Club, along with hundreds of other sportsmen in the city, have been back of them, and all they ask is that a youngster show that he has courage, sportsmanship and ability, and they are for him.

Kiwanians are going to be on the radio tonight. Judge Mantz of the fourth ward sends in an official communique to the colyum informing the world that a Kiwanis program will be broadcast tonight from KDKA at 10:30 p. m. Dr. Wallace Petty will be the principal speaker.

Haven't got any reaction yet on the "full dinner pail" argument. Also would like to know who won that wager that was made on it. And if I don't get some information today, the expose will come tomorrow. "Curse you, Jack Dalton, where are them poipers?"

Driving out past Cascade Park presents a rather dreary sight these days. Boards hide the places of amusement, the trees are bare and the place is as quiet as a desert. But it won't be long until the place takes on a lot of life, music and lights and laughter will fill the park, and on a balmy summer evening one will hear the strains of the latest blues number floating out over East Washington street.
